

Lions Endorse Design For Canada Flag

The Lions clubs of North York, in company with Lions clubs throughout Canada, are doing all they can to foster a more enthusiastic spirit of patriotism in Canada. As part of that program, the Lions unanimously endorsed a design for a distinctive Canadian flag at their recent national convention.

This design consists of a field of ten bars, five blue and five white, denoting the ten provinces, with the Union Jack in the upper left and a red maple leaf in the field with a white fleur-de-lis superimposed upon it. The flag retains the national colors, red, white and blue.

The Lions feel that this design is in perfect harmony with the Canadian coat-of-arms and tells the story of our country, its history and traditions. It should be remembered, they point out, that it was the French who opened up Canada from the Maritimes to the prairies and, while the British won the right to rule Canada on the Plains of Abraham, the French were given freedom and equality under the Union Jack. French-Canadians fought along side their English-speaking compatriots in the war of 1812 to keep this Canada.

The main thing the Lions like about this design is that it is distinctly Canadian. They point out that this flag would not be confused with the Red, Blue or White Ensigns of England, yet the Union Jack signifies membership in the Commonwealth. The bars would remove any suspicion of colonialism and, being dark blue and white, would be distinctive from the red bars of the U. S. Stars and Stripes and the pale blue bars of the Greek flag.

HALLOWEEN DANCE

A Halloween dance is being sponsored by the Optimist Club on Friday, October 26, in Newmarket. Further announcements about the dance are to be made next week.

This photograph of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh was taken by Yousuf Karsh, famous Canadian photographer of Ottawa. Today it was announced that the tour of Canada to be made by the royal couple has been postponed for only one week and that the princess and duke will be arriving in Canada October 9. Newmarket citizens will be able to see the royal couple in Toronto. Copyright by Karsh.

Residents Petition, Council Acts On New Bridge Construction

Twenty-six Newmarket citizens who live near Wellington and Prospect Sts. sent a petition to town council Monday night urging the construction of a bridge on Wellington St. before cold weather. At the same meeting, councillors voted in favor of accepting a tender from Ward and Allan, Newmarket, to build bridges on Wellington St. and at the east end of Timothy St.

There has been no bridge at Wellington St. for some time and residents have only had one street entrance at Queen St. They complained to council on previous occasions about delivery wagons and large trucks being forced to turn around on their front lawns.

Councillor Frank Bowser said that it was time that something was done about building the Wellington St. bridge. Otherwise, he said, he would have to ask for police protection on his telephone. He complained about one particular citizen causing him trouble through incessant phone calls.

Town Engineer Denne Bosworth said that the department of highways pays a 50 percent subsidy this year on the lowest tender price submitted. The tender of Ward and Allan for $11,000 was the lowest received by council.

According to the specifications, work must start on Wellington St. in four days.

Finds Them Charming, Agreeable

By YOUSUF KARSH

The photographs were taken in the afternoon of July 30 at Clarence House, the official residence of Their Royal Highnesses the Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh. Their private sitting room, exquisitely and tastefully decorated was the setting.

I found them most charming and agreeable - simple and dignified - informal and gracious. The princess is a most gracious young matron - the Duke an extremely handsome man. From a personal point of view, what impressed me the most, perhaps, was their willingness, one might almost say their anxiety, to co-operate in every way possible. Like all truly great people, they seem to have an instinctive appreciation and understanding of the artist's needs and desires.

The fact that I had photographed the Royal family before was recalled by Princess Elizabeth.

The efficiency and courtesy of their entourage, their knowledge and understanding of my work, made my visit an easy and memorable one.

Seek Funds To Improve Ahshunyoong

Camp Ahshunyoong at Duclos Point, Lake Simcoe, needs financial help to maintain its tradition of steady improvement, a tradition upheld since its beginning in 1921. Sponsored by the North York Boys and Girls Work Board, Elgin Evans, Newmarket, chairman, the camp last year accommodated 700 teen-age boys and girls.

The camp is operated on a non-profit basis and is only maintained by considerable voluntary labor and cash donations from interested individuals and organizations. Extra support is now required to carry out the program of camp improvements.

Camp Ahshunyoong was organized in 1931 to provide camp privileges for the boys and girls of North York. The first camp site was situated on Georgina Island, the home of the ancient Ojibway Indians. After moving to several rented sites, a permanent site on McCrae Beach, Duclos Point, was finally purchased.

The camp belongs to North York and is operated by a board of trustees. Rev. Douglas Davis, Stouffville, has been the business manager for the past 20 years.

The camp site consists of five acres of land with a 200 ft. frontage on Lake Simcoe, cabins that will accommodate eight campers each, take care of 80 campers. There is adequate accommodation for a staff of 20 leaders with special cabins for a nurse, director, cooks and camp supervisor. There is also a large dining room which easily takes care of 100 people, with an up-to-date kitchen attached. There is a large recreation hall and a leader's cabin with sleeping accommodation for 12 adults. There is also a library reading room with a stone fireplace.

The camp operates from May 24 to the middle of September. During July and August it is used by teen-age boys and girls. Ten-day camps at a nominal charge of $12 are conducted during this period. In the spring and early fall, the camp site is used for long weekends by church young people's groups and C.G.I.T. The Junior Farmers have for three years had one week around the Labor Day weekend. Occasionally, a Sunday school picnic comes here such as Newmarket this summer. Further information is available from Mr. Evans, Newmarket R.R. 1, or Rev. Douglas Davis of Stouffville.

To Decide Site For Fire Dept. Building

FIRST ICE TEST MADE AT AURORA ARENA ON TUESDAY

The news that flooding operations had started in the Aurora arena on Tuesday spread like wildfire among the sports fans. Tom Dickson says that the flooding was for a pre-season test, but if everything works satisfactorily the arena may carry on and put the ice in for the season.

If Aurora continues with flooding, it could have ice in a week or ten days. Stouffville is reported to be planning an arena opening this week for hockey practices and skating.

SEEK WATER SERVICE

A delegation representing Eagle St. residents asked the Newmarket council if a town water main could be put out to Yonge St. Monday night. An estimate of costs of the installation for each property owner was given by the engineer. The delegation was told that a petition was needed from owners so that the work could be done under a local improvement plan.

DUCK SEASON, DUCK!

The season opens for ducks and geese in this area on October 6 and closes December 1. The season for grouse and pheasants in this area opens Oct. 25 and runs Oct. 26, 27 and 31, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. R. C. Bert Morrison is license issuer in Newmarket.

URGES PASSING OF ANTI-SMOKE LAW

Councillor Lorne Paynter urged council to pass an anti-smoke by-law at the Newmarket council meeting Monday night. Mr. Paynter said that the by-law has been on the agenda for a long time and that it was time to do something about it. The by-law, first introduced by Deputy-reeve J. L. Spillette, was planned to control the emission of smoke from factory chimneys. Mr. Spillette is away on holidays and Mayor Vale said that nothing should be done about the by-law until the deputy-reeve is at a meeting.

BOY SCOUT SALVAGE

There have been rumors of salvage collections in the name of the Boy Scouts in Newmarket. Scout officials say that the only Boy Scout collections are those taken by the Scouts themselves, in full uniform and with their own trucks, and that anyone claiming to collect for the Scouts is misrepresenting himself.

Councillors Fear That Present Fire Hall May Tumble Down

Fear of tearing down a public building lest the one next to it fall down from lack of support was expressed by members of Newmarket council Monday night. The building next to it is the fire hall, near the corner of Main St. and Millard Ave.

The demolition of the old Veterans' Dug-Out was suggested by Councillor Tom Birrell. It stands unoccupied at the corner of Main and Millard Ave. At one time it was a municipal office.

Councillors Frank Bowser and Lorne Paynter said that the fire hall next door would fall down because it is leaning southward against the Dug-Out. In spite of the warnings, council passed a resolution in favor of the demolition since the building is of no use. The fire hall is to remain standing, with luck, until council decides when and where it will build a new one.

The Newmarket fire department wants a new fire hall built on the site now occupied by the old Dug-Out and the present fire hall. Members of council are not unanimous on where the new fire hall should be. Some favor the firemen's idea; another proposal is for the waterworks property at the south end of Main St.

A resolution was brought in near the end of the discussion to draw up a by-law authorizing construction of the new building at Main and Millard but it was withdrawn. The mayor suggested that the two sites be considered before the next council meeting and that the committee make a recommendation for the better site.

Mr. Birrell said that he had put forth his motion for the Dug-Out demolition in hopes that it would promote some discussion on the fire hall. It did.

Councillor Paynter said that there was no doubt that the fire hall would fall down if the corner building were removed. "I suggest that we decide that we are going to build a new building this fall before we start tearing down buildings," he said. "That fire hall will certainly fall down," said Mr. Bowser, renewing the defence for the Dug-Out.

"Are you an authority on that?" asked Councillor Birrell. "Yes, I am an authority on it and I say it will fall down," said Bowser.

"Why, there's three feet between those two buildings; they aren't even connected," Councillor Birrell insisted. He said that the front faces of the buildings were joined but not the adjacent walls.

Reeve Arthur Evans questioned the proposal to use the present site. "The firemen want the new building at the present site but is this the place for a fire hall? The reason they give is that they can coast the truck down either hill to start it in cold weather. I think that idea is 50 years old." He said that the present site is in a congested traffic area.

Town Engineer Denne Bosworth said that the lot is 53 feet by 60 feet. "It is possible to build a fire hall there but I don't think there is enough room for the kind of building we should be putting up." He said that a fire hall which would serve the town as it expands in the future should be built.

Mr. Evans favored the waterworks site. "There is always someone at the waterworks building day or night and that's the next best thing to having a full time fireman at the station. The new truck is housed there now and it gets to fires faster than the other truck stationed at the top of the hill," he said. "From the waterworks, it can swing out north, south and west and travel along good paved streets."

Wiring was completed Tuesday. All that is required is a connection to the hydro lines. The transformer was put up on Tuesday and Ang Morrison, hydro superintendent, one who has aided the floodlight committee time after time, expects to connect the lights today.

Volunteer workers have saved the committee many dollars. Hydro employees Cephus Andrews, Wendell Gilbert and Bob Walker received special mention over the past two weeks in connecting the light standards and installing secondary wiring.

It is definite that the floodlights will go on as Northern Electric engineers are to make the final check on installation and will spot the floodlights this weekend.

As a mark of appreciation, the Specialty and Bell teams will be featured. Both teams have supplied volunteer workers for the project. The second half of the twin bill will feature the Triple Sevens, town league champions and Zephyr or Pine Orchard finalists in the Lake Simcoe league. However, plans are not complete and it may be an all-star town league against the Schomberg Sodbusters.

The lights may be ready on the weekend after final inspection

Formerly Of Aurora, Dr. Hill Appointed To St. Barnabas

The Very Rev. Roland Hill, Dean of Athabaska, has been appointed rector of St. Barnabas, Anglican church on Danforth Ave., Toronto. Dr. Hill was born and educated in Aurora and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hill, Wellington St. E., Aurora.

Dr. Hill succeeds Rev. Harry W. Garbutt who was dismissed from his incumbency on July 9 by Rt. Rev. A. R. Beveridge, Bishop of Toronto. Dr. Hill who is 37, will take on his duties December 1.

Dr. Hill has had nine years' parochial experience in the diocese of Toronto and Athabaska. He received his B.A. degree from the University of Toronto in 1941 and in 1943 was ordained deacon and appointed as incumbent of the parish of Agincourt. He was ordained a priest upon his graduation from Wycliffe College.

In 1947, the Bishop of Athabaska appointed him rector of St. James' Cathedral in Peace River, Alta. In commendation of his work in the Peace River district, the Bishop of Athabaska has written: "He has done magnificent work here. He is a splendid worker and organizer and a good preacher. More important, his own life is a splendid example of Christian living. He has done completely faithful work in this diocese and richly deserves a larger place of work than I could give him."

AT NEWMARKET, OCTOBER, 1910

Tour Recalls Royal Visit 50 Years Ago

Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will be visiting Canada almost exactly 50 years after the late King George V. and Queen Mary, then Duke and Duchess of York, toured this country, and visited Newmarket as reported in the Newmarket Era during September and October 1901.

W. N. Starr, advertising in the September 27 paper which had photos of the visitors, offered a Royal Welcome printed souvenir, "a work of art," also patriotic pins at 5c. Binns Hardware had "flags for decorating, cheap."

On the program played by the Citizens' Band in the Model School grounds was the march, "Royal Salute." Brunton's had just received 2,000 yards of bunting, all colors, and persons having flags or bunting in their possession belonging to the North York Agricultural Society were asked to return it at once. The royal couple had been received at Montreal with "the most distinguished ovation ever given in that city to any man or woman." Mayor Prefontaine conducted a civic welcome with about a quarter of a million people on hand to see the procession to Lord Strathcona's residence. The Ottawa correspondent claimed that citizens there put on "the most demonstrative welcome" of the tour to date. He described the impressive sights on Parliament Hill, the illuminated House of Commons, the temporary pavilion, and flags and banners along Wellington Street and the bridge across the canal.

The Duke and Duchess were guests of His Excellency the Governor-General, Lord Minto. Ottawa was decorated "with a taste and effect not quite equalled by anything seen in either Quebec or Montreal."

In a special edition the Era recalled the visit in 1860 of Edward VII, then Prince of Wales, when the village clerk, Thos. Nixon, in the formal welcome, had remarked rather alarmingly that "Fifty years ago, the spot now honored by your Royal presence was a trackless forest, where the red man and the trapper disputed possession with the wolf and the bear."

On Thursday, Oct. 10, 1901, "precisely at 1.05," the royal train of ten coaches, drawn by two engines, arrived for a short stop in Newmarket. Earlier a train had gone through carrying the Governor-General and Lady Minto, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The weather was bad, but 5,000 people turned out to see the Duke and Duchess appear at the back of the last car, at a platform guarded by the fire brigade. The band played "God Save the King," 400 children waved maple leaves and flags, the mayor, H. S. Cane, was introduced, Helen Robertson and Mildred Roadhouse gave a bouquet of roses to the Duchess and Sheriff Widdifield presented a leather-bound illuminated address, reading, in part, "We call to mind that just 41 years ago this town was honored in a similar manner by a visit from our Gracious Sovereign, then His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales."

Newmarket was later commended as the only town between Montreal and Vancouver which had given the tour's professional decorator any help with decorating.

The regular 10 o'clock passenger train was delayed over three hours that day and all freight trains were cancelled.

Now, 50 years later, another royal visit is planned. Unfortunately, we won't see the royal train this time, although we might see the royal plane fly over. Newmarket, as it has always done, will wish Their Royal Highnesses a pleasant journey.

These little places of worship dot our countryside from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from lakes to northern lights.

Car Owners! DODGE HAS THE ANSWERS to questions you frequently ask

Q Should I use a standard or premium gasoline in my car?
A That depends on the make of your present car. All new Dodge engines are designed to operate with maximum performance and top efficiency with ordinary gasoline.
Q How can I judge the amount of chugging my car requires to start under varying weather conditions?
A Unfortunately, you cannot. But new Dodge cars are equipped with an Automatic Electric Choke which makes starting easier—particularly in cold weather, and avoids wasteful over-choking.
Q If my foot brake should fail, will my parking brake still operate?
A Yes, if you own a Dodge. The Dodge parking brake is completely independent of the foot brake, operating on a drum of its own fastened to the propeller shaft. When the propeller shaft is locked, the wheels cannot turn. In many cars the parking brake operates on the two rear drums of the foot brake.

Q In face of the high cost of body repairs, why don't all cars have detachable fenders?
A It would seem that some manufacturers have sacrificed the practical for styling. All Dodge fenders are bolted on and are easily removed to facilitate replacement or repair.
Q How can I stop my gas lines from clogging with dirt and water?
A With most cars there's no sure way. You might try draining and cleaning out your tank from time to time. In cold weather always keep your tank well filled as this reduces the amount of condensation. With a 1951 Dodge, of course, you cannot experience this annoying trouble. The new Dodge is equipped with an Oilite fuel filter located in the gas tank which keeps the entire fuel system free from dirt and water. It's self-cleaning, too, from the swishing action of the gas in the tank.

Q Should I buy a set of the special tires or tubes advertised as protection against blowouts?
A Many motorists would not be without them. Dodge owners, however, have an exceptional safety factor in "Safety Rim" wheels. Protective ridges on these wheels hold the standard tire in place in case of tire failure, reduce the danger of loss of control and allow safe, straight stops.

Q Why is rear seat riding in some cars so tiring?
A That's because a low, sloped-back rear seat places you in an uncomfortable position without support under and behind the knees. Dodge chair-high seats, both front and rear, give you proper knee and back support—let you ride long distances in comfort.

Q Why do my windshield wipers slow down and sometimes stop working when I accelerate my engine—often when I need them most?
A That's a little technical but here's the answer in simplest terms. Your wiper is a vacuum type, operated from the vacuum in the intake manifold. This vacuum is highest when the engine is idling—lowest when the engine is under full load, such as when you call for fast acceleration. So your vacuum wipers slow down. With the new Dodge cars you do not experience this trouble as they are equipped with constant-speed electric windshield wipers.

Q How can I best protect my engine from the dirt and abrasives which collect in the oil?
A You should install an efficient oil filter. If your car is not so equipped, not only are all Dodge Coronet and Recent models equipped with a highly efficient Mico-Matic Oil Filter as standard equipment, but all Dodge models give you added protection with a Floating Oil Intake. This type of intake draws only the clean oil from just below the surface, preventing both surface foam and bottom sludge from entering the oil lines.

The Story Of SHARON

By
ETHEL WILLSON TREWHELLA

This is the sixteenth instalment of a continuing "Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contribution to knowledge of the past. The remaining installments will follow weekly.

Further along is the name of Brammer. They had come from Yorkshire and through the years had contributed an important and permanent share in building the community. Henry Chaplain Mosier and his wife were members of the Society. He had operated a sawmill about five miles north east of Sharon. For many years the name of Morris was a part of Sharon. Richard Morris came from Wales and appears to have been the first of the name to arrive. John Morris conducted a tinsmith shop and personally made the tin articles requested by his customers. Thomas Morris carried on a harness business at the north end of the village, during the eighties.

And so the list is continued with the names of Proctor, Webster, McArthur — Emily McArthur, wife of Charles McArthur, for many years was the historian of the community. There are also the names of Hopkins, Rowland, Fildes, Lilley, Evans, Sachs, Atkinson, Parsons, Maguire, Tate.

Half way along the hill lie the first of the Hughes' family to settle in Sharon. On the stone tablet of Eleanor Hughes is also a memorial of her husband, Job Hughes. A Friends' minister, who died at Fishing Creek, Pennsylvania, while on a religious visit. The Hughes' were of Welsh origin and came to Canada from Pennsylvania in 1804. Close beside are the graves of Amos, son of Eleanor and Job, with his wife, Rebecca Chapman. It appears that Amos had made a preliminary journey to Canada and at some part of the trip, while prying a sleigh which had broken through the ice, he was severely injured and on the remainder of the journey he was seriously ill. When the family came in 1805 they are said to have brought a quantity of livestock, among which were five horses. The several cows they milked and the jolting of the wagon churned the milk to butter. Here also lie Job Hughes, son of Amos and Rebecca, with his wife, Elizabeth Thorpe; also Ellen Reid and Rachel Graham, daughters of Amos Hughes. Further up the hill are the graves of Samuel Haines and his wife, Susanna Chapman. Samuel Haines was a Quaker from New Jersey and early came to Canada. In 1806 he applied for land and from the public archives at Ottawa a copy of his petition has been obtained: "The petition of Samuel Haines of King, Yeoman, HUMBLY SHEWETH,

That your petitioner has been two months in the Province and has property to the amount of two hundred pounds Province Currency. That he has taken the oath of allegiance, and is desirous to occupy and improve a vacant Lot of Land in the Province, being induced by the residence of a Brother and Sister therein, to settle there, also that your Petitioner is prepared and undertakes in case his petition shall be favorably answered to pay within three days from the date of your Honor's Order in Council into the Hands of His Majesty's Receiver General of this Province as well the whole of the fees allowed by His Majesty to be charged on the Patent that is to issue, as the fees of Survey—and Your Petitioner will within the same period, produce the Clerk of the Executive Council, the Receiver General's Receipt for such Fees—And your Petitioner will also attend the Secretary of the Province within 21 days from the date of your Honor's Order in Council and

From the beginning, the Briggs' family contributed a large and important share in municipal affairs. So, too, did the Lundy family. Israel Lundy and his wife, Rachel Hughes, had emigrated from Pennsylvania in the early century. He secured his land from the Crown and set up a grist mill on the Holland River facing the second concession. Here they built a small log house and raised their family of six children. Of this family there were three sons, Reuben, Jacob and Judah. They were all active in the Children of Peace and were stalwarts in the development of Sharon. Jacob was an especial friend of David Willson and at the time of his death in 1878 he was on the Trustee Board. At his funeral the Sharon silver band provided the music and Amos J. Hughes conducted the religious exercises.

Some are still resident in Sharon who can recall Adam Borgasser. A colorful personage, he was born in Frankfort, Germany. Arriving at Markham, he made his way to Sharon and married Hannah Haines, daughter of Israel and Sarah (Doan) Haines. She, with their little son, rests in this Davidite burying ground. The sensitive beauty of the mind of this man, a humble stranger in a foreign land, may be glimpsed if it is related that as he stood on that bare hillside beside all that he held dearest, he recited Tennyson's poem, "Break, Break, Break":

"And the stately ships go on
To their haven under the hill;
But O for the touch of a vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still!"

Adam Borgasser was a friend wherever a friend was needed, and more than one young man, facing an uncertain future, had reason to bless Adam Borgasser. A licensed pedlar, he was a familiar person throughout an extensive district as he went about with his team of horses and small wagon offering various articles to welcoming housewives. When Adam Borgasser ceased going through the township of East Gwillimbury, another leisurely method of doing business was brought to an end. He was high in the Masonic Order and was given the respect of full Masonic honors when he passed away in Vancouver.

Of the various names observed on the stone memorials, by far the larger proportion bear the name of Willson. The name of Rodney Willson was familiar for many years in Sharon. His grandfather, John, with his wife, Mary Titus, and their two sons, John and Titus, started for Can-take out such Deed. Wherefore your Petitioner prays your Honor may be pleased to grant him 200 acres of the waste Lands of the Crown under the Regulation acted upon the 6 July 1804 and as in duty bound shall ever pray,

SAMUEL HAINES. This land was taken up in Uxbridge township and during the war of 1812 he was fined by the British Government for refusing to take up arms against his own people. He came to East Gwillimbury in 1816 and for six years conducted a blacksmith shop on his farm. He returned to Uxbridge where he owned five hundred acres and in 1829 came back to Sharon where in 1835 he purchased one hundred and fifty acres of land — that where Walter Haines lives, and fifty acres immediately north of the school house. He maintained his birth-right in the Society of Friends.

Memories of by-gone days again are stirred at the name of Murdoch McLeod. He had come from the Highlands of Scotland and with his wife, Rachel Terry, and a large family of children, had united with the Friends. He was among those who had assisted in organizing the Children of Peace, and of him it is written: "He was a sensible, well-behaved man and much esteemed among Friends." Murdoch and Rachel were the parents of Alexander McLeod.

Near the roadside is another tablet on which is the name of Josephine Gorham, wife of Dr. J. W. Montgomery. The name of Gorham was but another prominent during the hectic days of rebellion. William Reid, of the Sharon pioneers, lived to the grand age of 90 years. He was a native of Banffshire, in the north of Scotland, and being a man of more than ordinary intellect and very well educated, he taught school in Sharon in the early days. He was a useful citizen. In politics he adhered to the Reform party, was inflexible in principle and deeply sympathized with the people in their struggle for constitutional rights. For 44 years he was a member of the Children of Peace.

Here, also, lies Martha, a granddaughter of Amos and Martha Armitage, who was the first wife of Charles Haines. He, with his second wife, Anna Kester, are in the lower section of this burying ground.

From the beginning, the Briggs' family contributed a large and important share in municipal affairs. So, too, did the Lundy family. Israel Lundy and his wife, Rachel Hughes, had emigrated from Pennsylvania in the early century. He secured his land from the Crown and set up a grist mill on the Holland River facing the second concession. Here they built a small log house and raised their family of six children. ## ACROSS THE SEA

Newmarket, England

By R. F. JEFFERY
Editor, Newmarket Journal

Hearing of the preparations in Canada of the impending royal visit and that your Newmarket, unfortunately, is not on the scheduled journey, must cause us to draw a comparison.

While it is not an everyday event, various members of the royal family pass through this Newmarket at fairly regular intervals, for we are on the main road from Buckingham Palace to the country seat at Sandringham, from where His Majesty has made some of his Christmas day broadcasts.

Our only indication usually that such a drive through is due, is the posting of a few policemen at strategic traffic points. Gossip then spreads quickly and an eye is kept on approaching traffic. A car glides past; we catch fleeting glimpses of whom it contains, and argue afterwards whether it was "Elizabeth" or "Margaret."

Quite recently the King and Queen were due at nearby Cambridge for an official visit, and it became known that Newmarket was on the route, so much so that a party of crippled children from Ely, some 14 miles away, came over in a bus and took up a position in our High Street. It was rather a touching sight to watch the nurses unloading the youngsters in their various stages of incapacity, ada in 1800. They came by sloop to Albany, by wagon to Schenectady where they joined another family in buying a boat of five tons. In this open boat, besides the family effects, there were three women, four men and 12 children. They passed up the Mohawk river to Roens and thence by a short military canal to Wood Creek, down that to Oneida Lake, across and down the river to Oswego and across Lake Ontario to Kingston. It was a long, tedious journey but they proceeded four miles to the west of Kingston where John taught school in the winter and farmed in the summer. In the spring of 1803 they moved to Wolfe Island and in 1810 they arrived in East Gwillimbury where they leased the farm opposite the Temple. In the spring of 1815 they moved to another famous locality, lot No. 1, opposite the Montgomery Tavern on Yonge St. But after a few years they returned to East Gwillimbury where in January, 1828, John Willson passed away. His wife, Mary, followed him in 1857.

Here, too, lies Titus Willson who bore a prominent part in the early settlement. He has left an interesting memorandum describing the difficulties of transport and the serious inconvenience felt by the settlers because of no roads. For many years he was acknowledged an efficient magistrate, was twice reeve of Holland Landing and enjoyed a pension for his services in the war of 1812, during which he had enrolled under Captains Selby and Travis. Always a temperate man and surrounded by members of the Temperance Society, he said he could not join with them in wholesale condemnation of alcohol though willing to admit it was a curse when abused. He recalled feeling grateful to it for saving his life when his public duties obliged him to travel from Penetang to where Barrie now stands. Going through very deep snow on foot when several miles from place of shelter, he found his strength failing him and his feet were so cold he feared they would freeze. He had with him that which travellers usually carried in those days—a small wooden keg called a canteen which contained spirits. He feared to drink the contents so he poured some into his boots and to his surprise he found it warmed his feet and so refreshed his whole system that he was enabled to continue. He joined the Order of Free Masons in 1814 and at one time was supposed to be the oldest Mason in this Dominion.

Moving carefully and tenderly among the stones there still were noted the additional names of Bell, Phillips, Pentz, Woodman, Wiggins, Thorpe, Kitley, Morin, Strasser, Helmer, Elmer, Hutt and Eves. A number are marked but by initials. Conspicuous on the Lundy monument is a white dove of peace, a fitting symbol in this "garden of the dead." The fretful traffic of the adjacent highway disturbs not these forgotten solitudes. When across those low western hills the stilled beauty of the day is gathered close in the brightness of descending sun, and a moment's glory, as of a celestial city, displays in a lake of sheeted gold, while the lengthening shadows are blacker etched against the stark whiteness of the ancient stones, one is halted by the realization that here, as in scores of pioneer cemeteries up and down the lives of those there resting, was born a Canada which no man had foreseen and that no man can measure,—that while the race of greed and money and the intolerance and madness of war, dull men's recognition of a debt due the past, here in these roadside plots, lonely and forgotten, only the winds will chant their eternal requiem and the groundhog will disturb the thistlebound dust.

You mean... We're not squirrels?

"No SQUIRREL," frowned Sammy, "would ever do what you've done today!"
"But all I did was buy five new moss pillows," retorted Sophie, his wife.
"Ummmm," said Sammy. "Did we need to get new moss pillows?"
"No," answered Sophie, "but everybody knows there's a terrific shortage of moss — so moss pillows are getting scarcer and scarcer. Besides, the prices are bound to go higher."
"They certainly will if everybody follows your example," growled Sammy. "That sort of buying just sends prices up higher. But what worries me is—what's happening to our savings?"
"How can we save when the cost of living is higher than a Douglas Fir? Take this tall brush, for instance. Ten years ago I could buy one for five measly heebennuts. Now they cost two horse-chestnuts. Or take . . ."
"I know, I know," cut in Sammy. "But we still need to save for the same reasons we always have. We've got to keep adding to our bank account, paying our life insurance and buying savings bonds. Or leave town."
"Leave town?" gasped Sophie.
"For heaven's sake why?"
"Because," said Sammy, "everybody thinks squirrels are savers. So if people find out we're not saving they'll say we're not squirrels! We'll be exiled. Banished."
"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Sophie. "I never thought of that. I'm sorry, Sammy. From now on I'll really try to save every way I can. Okay?"
"Okay!" said Sammy.
MORAL: These days, it is vitally important for everyone to save money to help check inflation—and to provide for his own future needs.

Our daughter has never heard of the celebrated Rev. Spooner who gave his name to a habit of twisting words into delightful mix-ups but the other day, she pulled a spooner which would have delighted the master. She had heard the weather broadcast and came upstairs to tell us we would have "scoured shatters" the next day.

Our money, what we can snatch from the family purse, is still on the Tigers to win the eastern Big Four rugby league. In fact, we call them in this order: Tigers, Argos, Ottawa and Montreal.

We're having a lot of fun with these rugby games. We've not seen one for years but we manage to hear most of them over the radio. This fall, we worked out a deal with the mistress of the house whereby we'll do the Saturday dishes in return for a couple of hours alone with the radio. We manage the cups and saucers in the first quarter, the dinner plates in the second. Have a rest and a smoke at half time, and finish off the pots and pans during the last half.

They rated the Argo team of last year as the best of the half century after it won the championship but after listening to the same team play this year, we've decided that they weren't nearly as good as the opposition was lacking.

We quote the following from the Wall Street Journal which, despite its title, seems to have the farm situation well in hand:

"A hog buyer, going through the country, saw a drove of hogs, large but pretty lean, and noticed that they acted quite peculiarly. From one point they would all at once run to another part of the field, stay there for a few minutes, then hump themselves to a different place. They kept this up for some time.

"The buyer called on the farmer, said he had been looking at the hogs and they were about what he wanted except they were a little light in weight, and then he mentioned their peculiar nervousness.

"The farmer in a hoarse whisper explained that he had always called the hogs to feed them, but that he took cold and lost his voice, and then got in the habit of pounding on the fence with a stick—and now the darned woodpeckers are running those hogs to death."

Holland Landing had a grand get-together on Sunday when the fire whistle blew in mid-afternoon. It was a chimney fire in the cottage colony along the river and put out in a trice. Everybody who was anybody was there and a grand gossip enjoyed by the wives while the husbands admired Chief Norm Pearson's new fire-fighting uniform.

We were at a meeting recently where there were representatives from city and from country. One speaker from the city reported an amazing experience. During the summer she had attended a camp where she had met and lived with representatives from rural areas. And she really was excited. Why, she said, those people from the country were just the same as the people from the city. Goodness me.

"After all," says Slim Bliggens, well known local primitive artist and authority on roots, "as long as you has got roots, there's nothin' to worry about. You don't have to fret about what kind of roots they is or even go back and look into them. A town that has got roots has nothin' to worry about."

Little Miss Florence Goldsmith, who had the honor of presenting the beautiful bouquet of flowers to Hon. Mackenzie King at the arena, received a large photo of the premier last Friday and a letter, the contents of which Florence regards as very precious. This was the bouquet which was placed on his mother's grave.

The equinox was passed on Tuesday. Hope we may have better weather for a while now.

A piece of wood from the interior of the wrecked Church of Baupenne after that town was captured by the British in 1917 was made into a gavel and presented to the town council of Aurora by the York Rangers as a souvenir of the unit's diamond jubilee celebration.

The ladies of the United church at Virginia are having a shantymen's supper on Friday evening, Oct. 1. A good program will be given. Come and have a good feast.

During last week workmen were employed installing a lighting system on the cofts of the Newmarket tennis club. This has now been completed and the members are more than pleased with the satisfactory results. The membership already is nearly 60 and now that the lighting has made evening play possible it is expected that this number will be substantially increased.

The public school pupils, with their teachers, visited the school fair at Sharon on Wednesday afternoon and were greatly enlightened by what they saw and heard. They were conveyed by voluntary cars and trucks and had a good time. The children of Newmarket are having a school fair this year in connection with the agricultural fair.

SEPTEMBER 27, 1901

It was an ordinary market last Saturday. Butter sold from 17 to 20c per lb., and eggs from 12c to 13c per doz. Potatoes were more plentiful and sold from 60 to 70c per bag and 15c by the pail. Poultry was more plentiful than for some time. Dressed ducks 70c, dressed chickens 50 to 60c, live ducks 40 to 50c, live chickens 25 to 45c, turkeys 11c per lb., and pigeons 15c per pair.

Somebody carried a pink rose jar away from Floral Hall by mistake last Friday morning. Its return to the secretary would greatly oblige the owner.

Royal honors to Canadians, marking the occasion of the visit of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York to this dominion, were announced at Montreal last week. Lt.-Governor Jette of Quebec and Sir John Boyd, chancellor of Ontario, are made Knights Commander of St. Michael and St. George; T. G. Shaughnessy, president of the C.P.R., is made a Knight Bachelor; Principal Peterson of McGill University, Principal Grant of Queen's, Rector Mathieu of Laval, Mayor Howland of the city of Toronto, Major Maude, governor-general's secretary, and Joseph Pope, under secretary of state, are made Companions of St. Michael and St. George. These are all the honors to be bestowed.

Aurora: Something should be done to prevent boys getting on the Metropolitan cars and riding through the town and then jumping off while the cars are in motion; also meddling with the cars and trucks standing on the switch at the north end of the town. Unless this practice is stopped some person will be killed or seriously injured.

We printed 125 extra papers last week but they were all gone on Monday.

PAGE FOUR THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-ONE

THE KING

The illness of the King is the cause of deep anxiety. The public prayers of last Sunday are echoed daily in the hearts of Canadians. It is an hour when all members of a family are together in their common concern.

Canadians will approve of the government's message to Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, assuring them that they need feel under no obligation to make their forthcoming tour of Canada at this time.

There has not yet been a definite word of the King's condition beyond the bulletins posted at the palace gates. Before this is published, it is hoped that a complete report will have been issued. We can only wait, and hope, and pray: May God save the King.

TOWNSHIP BUILDINGS

Whitchurch has just about completed its new township building, and East Gwillimbury's office is coming along nicely. Both buildings will be quite respectable structures when completed and, it is generally agreed, a credit to their respective municipalities.

We can't help wishing, however, that the township councillors had a more developed sense of history and the funds to build township buildings more in keeping with their rural setting. Old Ontario developed a distinctive form of architecture. It would have been appropriate if the township buildings could have been in that style as well.

In East Gwillimbury, the township building is near the Sharon Temple. We'll grant you the impracticality of our proposal, but had the township building harmonized with that stately monument to the past, the corner would have been immeasurably improved.

But then, we suppose, progress must be served. And there's nothing like brick and stucco to serve the purpose.

ELECTION COMING UP

There's election talk around the hardware stores and in the general stores again and the betting's about even that there'll be a fall provincial election. We doubt if there will be, but for every argument against an election, we must admit one in favor of it. In any event, the issue will be settled within a couple of weeks.

Most of the election discussion seems to centre about the merits of the new Liberal leader, Mr. Walter Thomson. Those who believe in an early election, argue that the Conservatives have to stop Thomson before he becomes too strong. Those in disagreement, and obviously with no high opinion of the gentleman, say that the longer the Conservatives wait, the more chance there is of Thomson running out of support.

We can't see that Mr. Thomson's merits have much to do with it. The C.C.F. is the party the Conservatives must beat. For an opposition party, the C.C.F. has been unusually quiet but the fact remains that they have the second largest representation in the house and in these times, can be sure of the most consistent support from their followers.

Ontario's industrial population is steadily growing and it is from this group that the C.C.F. draws its support. And judging from the statements coming from recent labor conventions, labor is hopping mad about the cost of living and kindred matters. They'll register their protests with the C.C.F.

If the federal government accedes to some of labor's demands, it might mean some support for the provincial Liberals, but otherwise, we fear the provincial party will be ignored by labor.

In the country, though, it may be different. The farmers have no reason to love the Conservatives, not after the Milk Board fiasco and similar matters, and they're not particularly fond of the C.C.F. so the Liberals stand a good chance to pick up votes outside the cities. But how that will effect the outcome is debatable.

CONTROLS: ALL OR NOTHING

If, as the Ontario minister of welfare, Hon. E. B. Goodfellow, recently proposed, subsidies were paid on basic foods as a means of cutting down food costs, then it would be only a short step to ceilings on food prices. Even without Mr. Goodfellow's proposal, there is a growing demand for such ceilings. But to impose ceilings on food prices would be an act of discrimination which no subsequent benefit could justify.

Dr. Herbert Hamman, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, had this to say about food price ceilings:

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

"There's considerable pressure for price controls on food. Since everybody's wage or income, or fee, enters into somebody else's cost of production or cost of living, or both, that request, if acted upon, would create a hardship on the farm family. It would make the farmer the goat for an inflation era."

"If and when the time comes that the need for price control becomes imperative, then price controls should apply on all prices, wages and profits. The farmer does not ask for himself to be exempt and others to be controlled; no one in any other industry or profession is justified in asking for controls on others, leaving himself free."

To which, the Financial Post adds: "There are a lot of people who are shouting for some form of control but it is always for the other fellow and his products, not their own." Labor has been demanding controls too, and exemplifying the Post statement, want ceilings on goods but not on wages.

It is impossible to subsidize or control one segment of the national economy without applying the same processes to the others. Our wartime experience should have taught us that. It is just plain nonsense to talk about ceilings and controls unless we are prepared to apply controls to everything. And kick as we do about costs, no one is ready to accept the alternative of a completely controlled economy.

THE DANGER OF THIN SKINS

The County Free Press Herald, Midland

Growing sensitivity to criticism on the part of our federal members of parliament and senators is both good and bad.

That the cabinet ministers particularly are becoming more concerned with comments in the press, on the air, and from the platform indicates an improved understanding of the elements of democratic government.

When, however, as has been too frequently the case of late, senators and ministers have voiced in public and in private the view that criticism of their policies is not only unpatriotic but against the national interest, it is perhaps time that the electors re-examine the capabilities of the men they have chosen to represent them.

Anyone who runs for public office must accept the criticisms, as well as the plaudits, of the press, the radio, and the public. Generally, it is true, criticism should be confined to policies and personalities should not enter in. By the very nature of their jobs, however, members of parliament and of the senate combine policy and personality and, when praise or condemnation is voiced, it sticks to the man or woman as well as to the latter's opinions and administration.

Indeed there are times when a personal attack is justified on an elected representative of the people. It is just as much a betrayal of the electors to be lazy, to imbihe too freely, or to be dishonest in office, as it is to support policies which are unpatriotic or opposed to the public interest.

If the electors in each constituency were to receive, prior to each contest, a detailed report on the personal regard in which their candidate is held by his intimates, a wiser selection might be made.

Be that as it may, it has been most disturbing to note in recent months the reaction of two senators, Liberal and Conservative, to a broadcast over a privately-owned radio station in which absenteeism in the Senate was condemned.

Ranking under the criticism, the truth of which was not disputed by facts, the two senators, recommended that all private radio stations be taken over by the government-owned Canadian Broadcasting Corporation so that this sort of thing would not be repeated.

If this is, in the concept of certain senators, the function of the CBC, it is high time the Prime Minister either speedily corrected them or clarified the position of our broadcasting system.

Wilfred Eggleston in Saturday Night quite correctly comments:

What is likely to be the reaction of a private station owner, getting his licence from the CBC, a public corporation, to such Senatorial attack? Is it not likely to be more careful, more timid, in future? There are laws and conventions which protect Canadians against licence in the press, and these should suffice for material which is broadcast over the radio as well. What has been made outstandingly clear is the gulf between the freedom of the press in Canada and the freedom of the radio publisher.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

Although Cuttin Corners does little boasting about its roots, it was written up as a special feature in one of the city papers as having strong and solid ones.

Slim Bliggens says, "Roots is where you finds them."

Cuttin Corners' roots, it is said, run back to the time when the Indians traded with the white men on the banks of Dankrun Creek. But that is just a bit of popular hearsay. We have it from good authority, namely the History of the Founding of Cuttin Corners, written in 1839 by Olden Mastic, that the roots go back to when the British explorer, the Third Duke of Milford Cuttin-Shaven, washed his socks and underwear on the banks of Dankrun Creek.

Strong though the roots may be boasted to be, Cuthbert's Encyclopedia of Early North American Notables says that the Duke of Cuttin-Shaven was tried for piracy in the port of Boston in 1749, escaped and disappeared into what was to be known as Upper Canada. Last records show, according to Cuthbert, that he died while establishing a large chain of outlets to sell spirits to the Indians in what is now Thimbleberry township.

Now you may talk about your roots. Why doesn't the press show every side of the early historical picture? Does it say anything about the early settlers being scared off by a headquarter of a cut-throat band of swamp whiskey distillers along the banks of Dankrun? No, they smooth it over and make it look as if there was nothing but good solid tradition behind it all.

The reporters had cornered both Mayor Maynott and a prominent old citizen, Ben Betterdays. Maynott, of course, was interested in good town publicity more than in sound historical fact. Your correspondent was talking with Ben Betterdays after the story was published and he had this to say:

"Them dern reporters turns everything yuh says inside out and then adds their idea to it."

"What particular information are you referring to?" I asked Ben.

"Well, one of them reporters asked me what I knew about the tradition of the town and the 'lein' hard of hearin', I thought he said 'condition of the town'. Well, I told him that I thought it was all in a bad condition on account of them politicians in office and that come the next election, there would have to be a change."

"I went and told him about the frogs in the water reservoir scandal and all about the sewer mix-up. I tell you I shouldn't have blabbed. I should have kept my mouth shut. But those there reporters gets you all confused."

There has been a rumour in the council since the city paper did the feature story on Cuttin Corners' roots. Mayor Maynott reprimanded the municipal fathers for not having followed his suggestions for a bronze statue of the Duke of Milford Cuttin-Shaven. It had been the wish of the mayor and the committee on historical recognition that a bronze statue of one of the Ontario premiers used in an election campaign in the thirties be brought out and given a surgery job to make him look like the Duke of Milford.

Councillor Best pointed out that the premier had a Mauderthall forehead and that the Duke had a Caucasian forehead and that it would present a difficult problem in sculpture.

"That's no excuse. Look at the publicity we could have had from it," the mayor retorted.

Inasmuch as there has been confusion between facts and popular talk about the historical background of Cuttin Corners, it is well established now, whether we like it or not, that it has strong and solid roots.

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

"Dairy Farmer" is in bed with the flu this week. In place of his regular column, we reprint a couple of provocative opinions from The Rural Scene, published by John Atkins.

Price Regulation Can't Aid Farmers

When government makes itself responsible for the prices of farm products, it assumes the responsibility for securing prices satisfactory to the farmers, and to the consumers also, if the commodities are sold for domestic consumption.

This is a very difficult task, and one that is bound to make enemies for any government that undertakes it.

The only prices that will be satisfactory to the farmers will have to be higher than the open market offers; and the only prices that will please the consumers will have to be lower than the open market asks.

But no government can do the impossible. If it departs from open market prices at all it will have to favor one or the other of these groups.

In Canada the farmers are a minority of the population. The voting power is in the towns and cities; and no government is going to offend the city voters by making them pay higher than open market prices for their food.

But the farm vote is important too. If a government tries to buy popularity in the cities by lowering the price of food, how is it going to explain its action to the farmers?

Here is where the government is tempted to go wrong. Its first impulse is to close the open market and not allow any other buyer than itself to operate. This is with the object of keeping the farmers in the dark as to the true value of their products. The next impulse is to compensate the farmers in some other way for their losses.

through its activities. This is bad business for it makes the farmers' income dependent on his political influence, and turns good farmers into bad politicians.

The only market in which the farmer has any chance of a square deal is the open market, for it is the only one that is free of political influence.

The Dilemma of The Milk Board

Our sympathy goes out to the Ontario Milk Board which has been wrestling for months with the problem of milk prices in Toronto.

The difficulty is to find prices that will be both economically sound and politically possible.

Economically sound prices would have to be high enough to encourage all producing groups to stay in the business and continue supplying enough milk of standard quality to satisfy the demand.

But such prices might arouse the wrath of the consumers who think they are paying too much already, and who will blame the government for any further increases the Board might authorize.

A decent sense of loyalty to its employer would cause any Board to hesitate about making an order that would prove embarrassing to the government that created it.

Fixing prices for an essential food is a thankless task, and one for which the government will get the blame no matter how impartial its Board might be.

The moral of it all is that governments should not be expected to fix prices. They have no means of determining what is a right price for any commodity and every price they set exposes them to resentment from some quarter no matter how hard they try to be just and fair.

Oak Ridges News

MRS. LAURA ROLLING, CORRESPONDENT, PHONE KING 5

Elmer, the elephant, symbol of safety, found a home atop the flagpole at Oak Ridges school on Monday afternoon. The flag was presented to the school by Mrs. Bob Woolley, past president of the Home and School Association, whose efforts have been instrumental in bringing Elmer to Oak Ridges. Mrs. Woolley expressed her pleasure on behalf of the association in being able to present the token with the wish the flag would not have to be lowered because of any accident.

It was received by Principal Martin who in turn gave it to Sgt. Wm. Melbourne of the OPP, who was assisted by Const. Baker and Const. Moore. The flag was raised by Mr. Moore who spoke to the students on the vigilance practice of safety rules. There were a number of parents present and the children were impressed by the purpose of the ceremony and the significance of Elmer on the school grounds. Each child was given a printed card of five basic rules.

At the close, Mr. Martin spoke feelingly of everyone's concern for the health of King George and led the singing of the National Anthem.

Confused Man Hit By Car

Crossing Yonge Street at Oak Ridges early Sunday evening, an aged man was hit by a north-bound car and tossed to the shoulder of the road. P. C. McBrien said he thought from the description of the accident by a witness, the pedestrian had become confused. He received face and head cuts and was treated by Dr. Crawford Rose of Aurora. The gentleman is only recently in Canada from Latvia and is unable to speak English to any advantage. He is an uncle of Mr. Biskis, living on King sideroad.

Parents See Children's Films

On Friday, parents went to school at the Lake Community Hall. With the students, they saw the benefits of visual aids in sets of sound movies. The biography and explorations of Christopher Columbus, the story of Robinson Crusoe, and scenes from Alice in Wonderland, part of supplementary reading, were shown. They heard the songs of Stephen Foster. The films, operated by the principal, Mrs. Cross, were shown both morning and afternoon.

First Ladies' Night

Oak Ridges Lions Club entertained ladies to a dinner and social evening at Ridge Inn on Monday evening. Fifty were present. Lion Ken Farquharson gave a summary of the recent zone meeting held in Aurora and told "how to measure a man." Cards and dancing filled in the remainder of the evening. Commencing Monday, Oct. 1, euchre and bingo evenings will be conducted by the club at Ridge Inn, to continue every second Monday.

The sum of $50 was granted to each of the district schools, Oak Ridges and Lake Wilcox. The latter will apply this toward purchase of a piano for the new school.

H. and S. Event Profitable

While the attendance was less than expected by the entertainment committee, there was plenty of fun.

A general meeting of Oak Ridges and Lake Wilcox Ratepayers' Assoc. will be held in the community hall at the lake on Tuesday night, Oct. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gimmell attended Schomberg fair last week. Mr. Gimmell was interested in the horse show. Mr. Elton Armstrong, reeve of King township, who officially opened the fair, said horse classes were the best this year that he had seen there for the past 20 years.

Work Of Juniors Feature Of Schomberg Fall Fair

Two interesting features of the Schomberg fair this year were the exhibits of the Schomberg Calf and Swine clubs. At the fair, the members of these clubs had the opportunity to show the animals which they own and which they have cared for throughout the summer.

In the Calf Club section there were 14 entries of Holstein, Guernsey and Jersey calves. The judging was done by Jack Macklin, King, R.R. 3. The winners in the Holstein section were (in order): Marie Edwards, Schomberg; Golda Aitchison, Schomberg; Bob Irwin, Schomberg; John Heacock, Schomberg; Verma Hamilton, Schomberg; Rhea Hamilton, Schomberg; Gladys Edwards, Schomberg.

The Guernsey winners were: Orville Osborne, Kettleby; Grant Leonard, Schomberg; Ken Archibald, Schomberg; Lorne Lipsett, Lloydstown.

The Jersey winners were: Hugh Sheardown, Schomberg; John Sheardown, Schomberg; Jim Sheardown, Schomberg.

Following these classes all the members competed in a showmanship class. The first three prizes were: John Sheardown, Schomberg; Jim Sheardown, Schomberg; Golda Aitchison, Schomberg.

Bob Hamilton of R. R. 1, Schomberg, was club leader.

The Swine Club brought out 11 pairs of gilts owned by 11 club members. These gilts were purchased by the Schomberg Agricultural Society in the spring and were sold to the boys at their original cost. The quality and condition of the gilts was uniformly good and Judge Elgin Sherman of Leitchcroft Farms, Gormley, spent considerable time in selecting the winners.

The winning entries were, in order: George Gould, Schomberg; Ken Archibald, Schomberg; Bobby Hodgson, Kettleby; Lawrence Hastings, Tottenham; Warren Pettifer, Schomberg; Larry Matson, Schomberg; Howard Archibald, Schomberg; Norman Hunt, Schomberg; Orville Osborne, Kettleby; Glen Hastings, Tottenham; George Parr, Schomberg.

Frank Barnes of R. R. 2, Schomberg, was club leader. These clubs were organized by the department of agriculture, Newmarket, last spring with the co-operation of the Schomberg Agricultural Society and the Downtown Kiwanis Club of Toronto who provide special prizes. E. K. Pearson, assistant agricultural representative, says the over-all winners will be announced shortly. These winners are decided not only on the above entries, but also on their ability to judge, their general knowledge of livestock, attendance at meetings, monthly feed reports, and care of their animals during the summer.

Mayfair Editor Speaks

The interesting account of her work as fashion editor included recollections of interviews with many of the leading international designers of women's fashions. Among them were Madame Valentina, Hattie Carnegie and Norman Hartnell. The latter's name has become familiar to most Canadians because of the exquisitely embroidered ball gowns chosen from his collections by members of the Royal family.

IT'S A Woman's World

BY CAROLINE ION

Whoever made the remark that nothing happened in a small town certainly had not visited Newmarket. If activities continue at the present pace, a movement will have to be started to have an eighth day in each week.

Next week, the first of the month will see nine organizations holding their regular monthly meetings. This average is maintained by the women's groups in town throughout the month. Besides these business meetings are the many money-making projects, social evenings and other special events each will hold. Just a glance at the Coming Events column on the front page is an indication of the many activities planned for the immediate future.

Tomorrow afternoon, the Scout-Guide Mothers' auxiliary will hold a bake sale and fish pond in the Scout Hall. Light refreshments will be served. Proceeds from this organization's work are directed to the establishing of a first-class camping site for the local boys and girls.

On the Monday evening, the same group will hold an evening on interior decorating at their hall. On this occasion when no charge is being made, a colored film followed by a talk on wall-papering, painting and the use of color in the home will be the highlight of the evening. A social hour will complete the program and the public is invited to attend.

Come Friday, Oct. 5, and it will be the Newmarket Horticultural society who will be acting as hosts at an open meeting in the Agricultural Board rooms, Botsford St. Alfred V. Hall, Toronto, who has been an advisor on landscape matters in Ontario for 25 years both to private individuals and to park boards, will be the guest speaker. He will talk on "The Perennial Bed in Fall".

An outstanding movie, "God in Creation", depicting plants in the process of growth will be shown and a sale of perennial roots and bulbs will be held by the members. Prices of this stock will be marked at 40 percent less than nursery quotations. An invitation to all gardening enthusiasts is extended by the society.

The district project of the Women's Institutes will be held the following week, on Tuesday,

The Newmarket Era and Express

lar visits to the local hospital with their free travelling library service for the patients. Project of the club for this season is the furnishing of a room at York County hospital.

Today and tomorrow, the annual field day of the Newmarket public schools is being held at the Stuart Scott grounds. From the opening of school in the fall the youngsters have spent recess and other spare time practising their relays, races and jumping. It is a big event to them and one that is made even more important when it has a few cheering parents on the sidelines.

Among other juvenile activities are the weekly cub, scout, brownie and guide meetings. Each group reports record attendances for another year and there is some discussion at present regarding the formation of a club are continuing their regu-

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

FROM MY VIEWPOINT

Both the events of which I will write in this column have been, or will be covered by reporters for the Era and Express, but no two people see things alike and as these events interest me and I know, many of you, I am going to do just what I've said—show you them from my viewpoint.

How many words there are should be seen through rose that we use glibly and fail to see their deeper meaning. Looking up the word "induction" in the dictionary, we found it meant introduction of a clergyman into a benefice. It could also mean prelude and I thought, how appropriate.

Here, at this solemn service, we were looking into the face of the man who is to be the spiritual guide of the members of Trinity United church, Newmarket, in the coming years. This induction, by fellow ministers, was the prelude to what should be a close-knit fellowship between pastor and people, a mutual association of good will and Christian brotherhood and a determination on the part of both to express their firm conviction that Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever, and that without Him there is no hope for the world.

Listening to the induction ceremony one felt the solemnity of the vows which Mr. Aiken was taking. A minister would not dare to take them whose heart and soul was not in the work, and when the congregation stood up and accepted Mr. Aiken as its pastor, we, who composed that congregation, had no right to do so, unless our minds were equally made up to be faithful fellow servants in the years ahead.

It seems to me that we of this hurrying, scurrying, nervous and chaotic age are apt to take everything in our stride without weighing the real things in the scales of our hearts. Instead we just fly on to the next thing, for nowadays there are so many "next things".

When we gathered in one of the class rooms after the ceremony, to partake of the hospitality of the W.A., which by the way, is always delightful to partake of, Mr. Aiken was welcomed by the Clerk of Session, Mr. L. Bovair, by Mrs. Walter Stephens, for the Women's organizations, and by Dr. Noble for the Sunday School. Mr. Rhodes of the Anglican church and Mr. Breckon of the Christian Baptist church welcomed Mr. Aiken on behalf of the ministerial association. Both spoke feelingly of the delight it was to work in co-operation with the different denominations and they also spoke humbly of the pitfalls that beset the way of ministers.

Mr. Rhodes said he had heard of congregations which in the first year idolized their minister, in the second, criticized him, in the third, ostracized him and in the fourth ostracized him! He said, of course, this could not happen in Newmarket.

Mr. Aiken in replying said that his relations with ministers of other denominations had always been most cordial and helpful. He also said he presumed Mr. Rhodes would think that the best thing about him was that his wife was brought up in the Anglican church. So much for the lighter side, but through it all rang the determination of our new minister to give of his best. It was a memorable evening.

A wedding
Just a few words about the wedding of Lois Blight and Don Cockburn. I'm writing because I enjoyed it. For one thing the flower arrangement was lovely. The great baskets of pink and white gladioli made such a fitting background for a wedding ceremony, when everything

LAWRENCE - BRAMMER

Baskets and standards of mixed fall flowers formed the setting in Trinity United church, Newmarket, on September 22, at 3 o'clock, for a pretty wedding when Elizabeth Lush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edgar Brammer, Newmarket, and Mr. Albert Edward Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edward Lawrence, London, were united in marriage. Rev. Henry Cotton, Peterborough, assisted by Rev. M. J. Aiken, Newmarket, performed the ceremony. Mr. Norman Hurdle was organist and directed Trinity boys' choir which sang "Where'er You Walk" before the processional and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of imported champagne tulle over blush satin, the bouffant skirt fell into a slight train and was accentuated by a hoop petticoat. The basque type over-jacket of blush satin which buttoned down the front with self buttons was rounded over the hips and featured a tulip collar and plunging neckline. The long sheath sleeves ended in points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of champagne tulle illusion was caught to a head-hugging helmet of blush satin trimmed with a double row of seed pearls and pearl sunburst design. She carried a bouquet of blush roses and trailing English ivy and a beautiful hand-drawn and lace handkerchief made by the groom's mother.

The bride's only jewellery was a single strand of small pearls. The bride was attended by Mrs. J. E. Struthers, Newmarket, matron of honor, who chose forest green, and bridesmaids, Mrs. Charles Williams, King, and Miss Anne Lawrence, London, sister of the groom, who wore old gold. The attendants' gowns were satin, fashioned on princess lines with little matching flared back lace jackets with three-quarter sleeves. The jackets buttoned with self buttons to a round neckline. They wore matching satin wristlets ending in points over the hands, and braided bandeaus to match their dresses, with contrasting feather sprays sweeping their cheeks. They carried nosegays of Talliesman roses.

Mr. William Ragsdale, Toronto, was groomsmen and the ushers were Messrs. John E. Struthers, Newmarket, Ninian Sanderson and William Dyer, London, and William MacLachy, Toronto.

Ultra-Modern Robins
 Our people at the Kingston plant enjoyed watching a couple of robins build a nest with shreds of aluminum foil. The robins seemed delighted to find their new building material so easy on the wings, so soft, so cosy. But... A wind arose. The nest was so light that it blew away. The robins rebuilt with the same material, but more firmly anchored.

While we have no ambition to supply the world's robins with nesting material, we are eager to provide aluminum for home-building humans — and for the thousand other uses of this modern metal. There were 52 delegates among the many Legion members who packed the Aurora Legion Hall on Tuesday, Sept. 18. Comrade Padbury, chairman of the Legion Service Bureau Committee of Ontario, was the speaker. The purpose of this meeting, was to stress to Mr. Jack Smith M.P., who was present, the necessity for the increase of basic pension rates for veterans, and the War Veterans' Allowance. Mr. Smith assured us, in reply to Comrade Padbury, that he would personally see that this subject was brought up in caucus next month, when Parliament again convenes.

This meeting was brought about by our zone (representing the ten branches in our vicinity) realizing that no increase in pensions or allowances has been made since before World War II, when the basic working man's wage was ridiculously low in comparison with the wage of today. Due to the efforts of the zone, Comrades Padbury, Ab. Hulce and Mr. Smith, we of the Legion in this community, know that Parliament will seriously consider this situation and remedy it.

We had a visitor to town one day last week, namely Mr. Boldi, a C.N.R. employee at Allandale, who called to pick up the Legion Pontiac car. Lucky guy!

News Of NEWMARKET LEGION

There were 52 delegates among the many Legion members who packed the Aurora Legion Hall on Tuesday, Sept. 18. Comrade Padbury, chairman of the Legion Service Bureau Committee of Ontario, was the speaker. The purpose of this meeting, was to stress to Mr. Jack Smith M.P., who was present, the necessity for the increase of basic pension rates for veterans, and the War Veterans' Allowance. Mr. Smith assured us, in reply to Comrade Padbury, that he would personally see that this subject was brought up in caucus next month, when Parliament again convenes.

This meeting was brought about by our zone (representing the ten branches in our vicinity) realizing that no increase in pensions or allowances has been made since before World War II, when the basic working man's wage was ridiculously low in comparison with the wage of today. Due to the efforts of the zone, Comrades Padbury, Ab. Hulce and Mr. Smith, we of the Legion in this community, know that Parliament will seriously consider this situation and remedy it.

We had a visitor to town one day last week, namely Mr. Boldi, a C.N.R. employee at Allandale, who called to pick up the Legion Pontiac car. Lucky guy!

The mixed doubles dart winners were finally decided last Saturday night at the Legion Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fisher were the winners, and runners-up were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gordon.

This coming Saturday, Comrade Milt Wesley's parents are celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary. The family is having a sort of re-union on that day. This branch joins in congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Wesley on their Diamond wedding anniversary.

The big district meeting will be held at Collingwood on Sunday, Oct. 21. Transportation will be available to any members wishing to attend.

By the end of this week, the kitchen will be almost completed. This means that it is now available for catering purposes.

For a real hearty laugh, dig up last Saturday's Telegram and see the caricatures by "Mac". If you have already seen them, dig out the paper again, and laugh some more. One of these

Busy Grid Season Planned at N.H.S.

Fred Speer, boy's athletic director at N.H.S., is shaping plans for a busy gridiron season. Top billing will be given to building a grid squad capable of defending the North York Secondary Schools inter-scholastic title annexed by N.H.S. last season.

The North York League plans an organization meeting in the very near future. Sutton, Beaverton, Aurora and Newmarket all expected to re-enter. There's a possibility that Pickering College will send in a team. Six-man football, fast gaining in popularity among the secondary schools, will have an all-out test at the N.H.S. Six teams have been organized, two are classed as majors while the other four are minors. Captains of the major teams are Bob Forhan and Glen Keffer; minors, Bill Forhan, Geo. Davis, Jack Mills and Peter Coles. A schedule of league games for the six teams is expected to be drawn up this week.

Prexy Ross Chapman has made his annual "hand-out" of the Stan Cook plateware to Zephyr "Blues". From where your observer sat Ronnie Kester, a big broth of a lad with a right arm of steel, snagged the hero role as the Blues put Pine Orchard to sleep in three straight.

Blues Coach Ches. Lunney summed it up neatly: "Our club was better balanced this year than last. We got strictly major league fly-chasing from Don Hewlett, Clark Arnold and Bill Lockie, Clarkson, particularly, wagging a big bat during the saw-downs.

"Inner circle guard coupled age and experience with youthful exuberance with Al Hawse at first, veteran Stan Lunney, key-stone sacker, Allan Lockie at short and veteran campaigner Ken Pickering at the hot corner. Carl "Johnny" Meyers came up with another grand stand with the big mitt, and of course if the going got too tough there was always 'old timer' Gord Rynard around to lend a hand." Forget somebody coachie. Best to add Blues benefitted from top flight coaching. They hit their peak in the playdowns, didn't lose a tussle which is what counts.

Another repeater was Mount Albert Ladies. There was a deserving triumph too as they disposed of Newmarket Pin-ups in straight heats. The Pin-ups found entirely too much Green in their fall calculations. The big blonde miss on the Mount Albert mound struck out 27 in the three-game final set. Gladys Rolling, the only practising lady coach in North York - to our knowledge - can take the bows for a well done job. Incidentally Zephyr can claim a share in the Mounties' victory. Four of gals hail from out that way, Marilyn Morrison, Shirley Pickering, Lois Morrison and Reta Longhurst.

Schomberg fans had a double reason to whoop it up. The men win the Peel-York pennant and the gals the York-Simcoe title. Congrats are in order to coach Art Walker and assistant coach Al Stephenson, both of whom worked their fingers to the bone to provide a winner. Congrats are also on tap for secretary Elgin Hastings and last but not least, Manager Albert "Pike" Cabell.

Cedar Brae, season long front runners in the Lake Simcoe Junior Men's circuit, wrapped up the championship, as the league ran through its first year of action with Charlie Stevens and Horace Brown at the helm. Winners nabbed the Carmen Rolling Cup. The league hit a spot of trouble as Queensville vamoosed in the semis and the Keswick platoon failed to show in two of three final tilts.

Off our beat. Congratulations are flocking into Midland to honor the Monarchs. After disposing of the Courtney-Vanzant nine, Monarchs went on to win the Barrie and District silverware popping off Barrie Valleys. Then the Monarchs brought the first P.W.S.U. intermediate crown to Simcoe county by polishing off New Toronto Campbell Soups in the provincial playdowns. At this writing the Monarchs seemed well on their way to collecting a third trophy, the CoPaco Cup, emblematic of Simcoe county supremacy.

Eckhardt Trophy Meet At A.H.S. Wednesday

The annual track and field meet to declare an Eckhardt Trophy holder and settle track and field supremacy in North York will be held at Aurora next Wednesday, Oct. 3. This year only two schools will enter, Aurora and Richmond Hill High schools. Newmarket are not competing as they are concentrating on football during the fall term.

The Aurora High School Annual track and field events to provide competitors for the Eckhardt Meet will be conducted this week.

Merchants Win Aurora Town Loop Crown

In the biggest switch of the season, Andy Closs' Merchants did an about face Tuesday to pound Mickey Sutton's Ditch Diggers 11-2 to win the Aurora town crown.

The Clossmen won around Long Jawn Andrew's four hitter, fancy in fielding and extra base hitting.

At the bottom of the third, the Merchants nursed a 2-1 margin. Paul Knowles gets aboard on an error, Jack Andrews strolls, Don Holman gave a Mick Sutton pitch the business for a three-run homer. After that, the Diggers never had a look in. In the fourth, Merchants' lead had risen to 4-1. Long Jawn Andrews polished off a long, long four-baser with Andy Closs Jr. on the sacks, coming over ahead of him. Merchants led 8-1. Ron Simmons comes up in the fifth and with Hank Clubine at first, socks a long triple and in turn completes the homeward trot on an infield out. That makes it 10-1. Teams barter a run each in the sixth, Earl MacDonald scoring Bill Mundell for the Diggers, Don Holman putting Jack Andrews home for the Merchants' final.

Earl MacDonald was the only two-hit man for the vanquished Diggers. Jack Andrews, Don Holman, Hank Clubine and Ron Simmons sparked the new champs with two each.

Merchants: J. Emmons, P. Knowles, A. Closs Jr., J. Andrews, D. Holman, L. Phillips, H. Clubine, T. Brodie, R. Simmons, B. Cook.

Ditch Diggers: H. Stephenson, B. Turan, W. Mundell, E. MacDonald, R. Craig, S. Romano-vitch, T. Barrager, M. Sutton, S. Sutton, B. Hammond.

Umpires: Plate, Bob Bell; bases, Loring Doolittle.

DIGGERS DUMP MERCHANTS

Last Thursday, Mick Sutton threw a one-hit game against Merchants and with a smashing nine-hit support from his mates, Diggers trounced Merchants 11-2. Mick Sutton was robbed of his no-hitter and shut-out in the fourth as Jimmy Emmons lined a single into left. Emmons belt came after Long Jawn Andrews and Paul Knowles had worked Sutton for walks both runners were home free as Emmons finally got the range on Sutton's pitching.

Teams Lining Up For Ice Season

Iceland Items: Jack Andrews, husky Aurora hockeyist who has played in "A" with St. Catharines Tee-Pees and last year was with Toledo, is now attending Ryerson Institute in Toronto and will be available for hockey in the district. Jack would ordinarily have played senior in Toronto, but there'll be no senior "B" there so Stouffville Clippers and Newmarket Spitfires among others are casting eyes at him.

Jack is a member of the Stouffville baseball club, which may give the Clippers the edge. He's been pitching softball for Aurora Merchants too.

The appointment of Al Shewchuk as playing coach for the Spitfires was a natural and popular choice. There are rumors of one or two of the '51 Newmarket squad who figured Shewchuk cut the biggest melon last season and didn't like it and may therefore hang up their skates or form a separate team that would play strictly exhibition games and do a bit of barnstorming on a speculation basis. It'll probably all end up as an autumn fantasy.

Bill McGhee, doughty defence, man of the defunct Aurora Indians, will likely perform with Newmarket, and that goes too for Billy Mundell, whose position at Aurora arena is still unsettled although he's doing all the work there and will have ice ready around October 6. Ron Simmons will also try for Spits, and if Shewchuk gets that "fearful foursome" from Aurora, plus the addition of Grant Pirth, Orrie Thoms and Don Gibson, defections won't mean much.

Overtures have been made to Harry Frogley by Newmarket, and the classy netminder is available for negotiations. He had originally intended to go to the States but now will play close to home, and he likes the North York atmosphere. Haven't learned the plans of all the ex-Indians but understand that Bill Patrick and Vic Melarg will retire from action. Dave Hopper, Norm Nigh, Howie Patrick are likely to play bushleague. Loring Doolittle, who left the team in mid-season, and coach Harvey Gibney will turn to refereeing. Doolittle is after an O.H.A. card right now. Gibney already has one.

Charlie Broker, left winger with North Toronto Lions, was one of the standouts at the Boston Bruins camp at Barrie and is headed up the ladder. Another promising young hockeyist with the Bruins was none other than Don Clapper, of Peterborough, son of N.H.L. ex-great Dit Clapper, Newmarket-born and Aurora raised. Young Clapper hardly will rate in the future like his dad, but he possesses possibilities that Art Ross and Co. are interested in. He's named after his Uncle Don, who played both lacrosse and hockey in Aurora. The third Clapper boy was Bruce, known as "Scotly," who was a sturdy performer but never got out of intermediate.

Big Eight will be the junior set-up this season. Brampton Regents, Weston Dukes, St. Mikes, North Toronto Lions, Corner Boys, Oakville, East York (remember pre-war junior days?), and Unionville. Too bad Aurora can't keep junior "B" company for that's the group that would really pack them in if Aurora had a contending, fighting team, and only one team at the arena.

Herb Smith is the president of the Unionville executive and Ernie LeMasurier is back at secretary-treasurer with Bob Lawrie as coach. Most of last season's team is available except for Moe Petch and Bud Watson, who will likely join Marham Millionaires. Billy Marr will also be gone via the age route.

Marham Millionaires are re-organized with Jack Torrance back as president, and Stan Pringle as secretary. All the old executive, including Bill Conlin, are back and there's a lot more too. That means the Moneybags will be in action again, and the old feudin' and fussin' with Stouffville Clippers will prevail.

Bob Hargay is back as coach of the Clippers and they've already held their first practice. Bob hopes to play this season as well as maestro. Hal Gibson of the Clippers was recently married but his marital ties will not keep him from playing hockey. Sorry to learn that the wife of Jackie Watson of the Millionaires and a sister of Normie Stouden has been stricken with polio and is in Toronto hospital. Latest reports are most encouraging, fortunately.

Thursday Thumbnails: Hack Cain was all smiles on Sunday. He blasted a hole in one on the 125 yd ninth at Highlands, with some reverse English. It was the second hole in one of the year at Aurora, Bob Seaton having got the other. Hack had a neat 32 on the nine holes as a result of his ace, one off the course record.

Markham Champions Humbled by 'Berg 5-0

Schomberg pasted Markham Aces 5-0 under the Schomberg lights Monday. Markham were Township League finalists this year while Schomberg annexed the Peel-York title. Ken Ellison on the Bergers' mound had his first ball hopping. He allowed only three hits, and only one Markham runner reached the third quarter station. Bud Lawrence, Aces' left fielder, picked up two of the Aces three hits, coach Gord Cuverley singled in the first for the Aces other successful bid.

The Bergers actually won it in the jump off innings. Doug Brown, waiting out Peggy O'Neill on the Markham mound for a walk, advanced to third on Pee-wee Aitcheson's 100 per single. Both runners completed the plate-ware march on Walt Thompson's jet propelled double.

Don Marchant's solid triple to right and a fly out eased Schomberg into a 3-0 edge in the second. The Bergers got an unearned run in the fifth on a pair of infield errors and wrapped up their fifth tally in the sixth on a first base error and singles by Ken Ellison and Doug Brown. Don Marchant was Schomberg's hit leader with two. Ken Elli-

HASHMAN AWARD

Mickey Sutton

The best of five series for the Aurora Town League crown is developing into quite a struggle. Ditch Diggers and Merchants are tied at two games each. Last Thursday, the Diggers were on the spot. They had to win to stay in as the Merchants had nosed into a 2 - 1 edge in games. So, with it a case of do or die, Mickey Sutton, Diggers' coach, manager and guiding genius, elected himself the stopper of the Merchants.

Mickey hooked his educated toe over the rubber to silence the previously hot swinging Merchants on a one-hitter. With that type of chucking the Diggers came through with an 11-2 romp win over the Merchants.

One hitters are not new to the pitching corps. Then again, they're not too plentiful in a season so that's why we're making Mickey Sutton our nominee for the Hashman award this week and recipient of Roxy Theatre pass.

PeeWees Trim Ajax Enter Second Round

Newmarket Optimist pee-wees rode into the second round of the O.B.A. playdowns Tuesday at the Fair Grounds on an 8-2 triumph over Ajax. Jackie Cain, working like a major leaguer all the way, pitched superb three-hit ball. Jack claimed 14 strike-outs.

Friday evening they stepped into Ajax and rode home celebrating a 6-2 victory. Jackie Cain had a no-hitter going until the seventh as the Optimists coasted behind a 6-0 lead.

son claimed 11 strike-outs, O'Neill 10.

Schomberg: Doug Marchant, D. Brown, D. Aitcheson, M. Edwards, W. Thompson, D. Rainey, Don Marchant, K. Ellison, B. McCabe, W. Bredon.

Markham: J. Fockler, J. Maharg, G. Cuverley, D. Raymer, M. Petch, B. Petch, H. Haines, B. Lawrence, S. Lunau, W. Munroe, P. O'Neill.

On the alleys

The Monday Night Ladies have come up with some fancy names for their teams. Here are the teams: Coons, Jets, Blue Bonnets, Four-Fifties, Wildcats and Hot Rods. Monday night they had their first bowling session at Joe Smith's. Elsie Cline got away with a 500 (233-169-189). Alice Rose 581 (235-169-177). Others over 500 were Mary Osborne 541, Ede Hall 536, Annie Stickland 534, Mona Dean 523, Claire Pollock 523, Nora Gibney 523, Pearl Codlin 516, Emma Broadbent 511. Wildcats recorded the lone sweep, humbling Hot Rods 4-0. Coons laced Jets 3-1 and Blue Bonnets dumped Four-Fifties by a similar margin.

Second week scores from the Davis Leather circuit show Len Burling with 753 (349-236-168, Burling's 349 count headed the list of early season single game scores. Others: Ned Tansley 629, Bud Pettit 621, and Andy Cullen 614. Bennington's and Cullen's sixes are tied for top with 8 points and Bothwell's and Tansley's side even with 6 each.

Hoffman League opened at the Brymer-Brown North End alleys last week with four teams, Sheet Metal, Machine Shop, Press Shop and Vorclone. Frank VandenBergh is president. Grant Blight, secretary, Don Brown, treasurer. Ken Thoms topped with a 629, followed by Alan Daniels 622, and Frank Daniels 603. Sheet Metal and Vorclone got off with 5-2 wins over Machine Shop and Press Shop.

Officers of the Thursday Night Ladies' League are Jean Wrightman, president; Betty Vanzant, secretary, and Myrtle Dunn, treasurer. Audrey Hulme was the pace-setter on opening night with a 548. Hazel Bennett compiled 528 and Myrtle Dunn 504.

Officers of the eight-team Bradford Men's League are Alex Spence, president, Bill Fuller, vice-president, and Ted Devlin, secretary-treasurer. The league has a four-hour session each Thursday evening at the Brymer-Brown North End alleys. Steve Simone topped with a 736 (253-209-184). Others: Joe Magani 668, Ernie James 633, Ted Devlin 619, Art Evans 618, Fred Gregory 612 and Bert Cameron 606.

EXPECT EARLY ACTION

Optimist bantam baseballers are likely to meet the winner of Acton-Thorold O.B.A. series. The two teams are now playing off and should finish this week so there's a distinct possibility that the local club will see action again Saturday. Newmarket eliminated Richmond Hill in the first round of the O.B.A.

BADMINTON ORGANIZATION

The annual meeting of the Newmarket Badminton Club for the purpose of organizing for the coming season will be made in next week's issue of the Era and Express. All members and prospective members are asked to keep a look out for the announcement.

Fire Services Under Debate Council Cuts Election Time By-Law "None Understand"

A special meeting of the town council was held on Monday night, Sept. 24, with all members in attendance. Three matters of major interest were discussed, namely, fire fighting arrangements as between Aurora and the townships of King and Whitechurch; a by-law limiting the existing period between nominations and elections, and the planning board's zoning by-law.

Among those present were Elton Armstrong, reeve of King township, and Ivan McLaughlin, reeve of Whitechurch township. Members of council from both townships also attended.

Councillor Pringle, chairman of the Aurora town council finance committee, introduced the subject of a new agreement for fire protection, and pointed out that owing to increasing expenses, especially in respect of Aurora's purchase of a new fire truck, such new agreement was necessary. His suggestion that the retainer arrangement for the use of the Aurora fire services should be increased from $250 evoked much discussion. Additional fire service charges were also requested.

Happy Relations
The Whitechurch representative argued that the proposed retainer increase was too much and wanted a comprehensive statement of expenses to justify the proposal.

At the same time it was agreed that, as the reeve of King township pointed out, the Aurora fire brigade had provided excellent service. Reeve Armstrong said that their mutual relations with Aurora had always been of the happiest character, and they would get along together.

Deputy-reeve Murray stated that numerous factors entered into the matter: a new fire truck, heavy equipment costs, and constant depreciation.

Reeve Cook suggested that they might get useful advice from the fire marshal's department, but this suggestion was dismissed on the grounds that it was wiser to try and manage their own affairs rather than run around seeking advice from other sources.

After considerable discussion it was resolved that a general statement of costs be provided at another early meeting between the representatives in an effort to reach an amicable new agreement.

Altering Electoral Time
Councillor Davies introduced a by-law to provide for a change in the present period of two weeks between nominations and elections for council, public school and hydro commissioner representation.

No discussion took place in regard to this important by-law, and it was passed in brief time.

Nominations will take place on the last Friday in the month of November, commencing at 7.30 p.m., and elections will be held ten days later.

Thus this year's nominations for the above offices will take place on Friday night, November 30, and elections for offices (if there are more candidates than the number needed to fill the offices) will take place on Monday, December 10.

Zoning By-law
A lengthy letter from the town solicitor, Lorne C. Lee, preceded the presentation of the planning board's zoning by-law. In his letter Mr. Lee warned council that there were many provisions in the zoning by-law of a far-reaching character, and once council passed it, and it became law, they had no more power over it.

The town solicitor urged that the greatest caution be exercised by council in the consideration of this zoning by-law, and recommended that it be fully publicized in order that the citizens of Aurora should know what the by-law really meant.

The by-law having received a first reading, council found it necessary to send for Mr. Lee to help members interpret phrases and clauses in the course of discussing it, council having gone into a committee of the whole.

"Nobody Understands It"

At one point in the discussion Councillor Victor Jones suggested that the zoning by-law be tabled until such time as an expert could come along and tell them just what it meant. "I don't understand it, and I don't believe there is a single man in this room who does," declared Councillor Jones.

Councillor Pringle asserted that council was the authority to deal with it, and said they should continue with the second reading.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Who Will Win The Medal? Gord Hoffman - Jim Wilson? Trophy In Willis Window

Well, the "underground earthworms" are up on our Main street and are gobbling up the pennies. May we explain. We refer to the parking meters. This is what a writer in the Ottawa Citizen said of them a few weeks ago: "Nothing could look more unsightly or primitive than this sea of scrap iron sticking up through the earth like breathing pipes of some race of underground earthworms."

And at Long Branch, it appears, that the store-keepers are up in arms against meters and for their good reasons that shopkeepers are not so numerous as they used to be and trade has fallen away. One of these Long Branch traders said in a published interview: "It is foolish to charge people to come in a shop. It has been quite quiet since the meters were put in and the absence of cars is very noticeable."

The testing-time for meters in Aurora has come. If they should prove a success the honors must go to Mr. S. Gordon Hoffman, the original crusader for meters, who went out and secured the signatures of more than 30 merchants; and when the petition was challenged went forth again and increased the number to 45.

Should They Fail?
If the meters should fail Jim (Hardware) Wilson will get the medal. It was Mr. Wilson who led the opposing petitioners. A quiet man, of modest speech, he is nevertheless tough and determined. Like the tradesmen from Long Branch, he argued that meters would drive business away.

Should They Succeed?
If the meters should succeed, a very interesting man. Meet him on the street and, if he thinks you are worth while, he will button-hole you and pour forth a series of arguments in favor of some town project. There is something refreshing about his enthusiasm for the causes in which he is interested. Whether you agree with him or not, he makes you think. A man who makes you think must have done some thinking himself.

Mr. Hoffman is a clever man and a successful one. But he never talks about his successes. Rather he talks about what could be done, and not what has been done. He looks forward to the future, not back on the past, except perhaps for reference and comparisons. It is because of these distinctions that he is an enthusiast. Enthusiasm springs from what is ahead, not from what has been achieved.

Gordon Hoffman went out for meters and secured them. He believed in them and persuaded others to believe in them. With his bagful of approving signatures he turned up in council one night in May last and presented them to the mayor and council. As he left the council chamber he asked for "Action, please, Mr. Mayor." Mayor Bell went with him all the way.

That was in late May. This is now the end of September and the "underground earthworms" are up in plenty, gobbling up the pennies. If they prove a success the medal must go to Gordon Hoffman.

MAYOR BELL OVERRULES COUNCIL VOTE

It was not our intention this week to discuss Mayor Bell's tenure of office, but certain unexpected circumstances during the past few days require immediate attention.

On Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 18, we called at the town hall in order to look through council business of Monday night Sept. 17, which has been our usual press custom since July, 1950. We were informed by the assistant town clerk that the town clerk had received instructions from Mayor Bell that the press was no longer to be permitted to look through council business.

The town clerk was absent from his office on that afternoon and we very readily agreed not to publish the Mayor's ban on the press last week, and to await suggested "clarification" on the town clerk's return. We had pointed out to the assistant town clerk that our right to inspect council business in the interests of public information had been passed by a unanimous vote of council at a regular meeting in July, 1950.

On Friday afternoon, Sept. 21, we put through a long distance telephone call from our Newmarket office and contacted Mr. Moses personally. After informing him of our call at his office on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 18, we asked for confirmation of the instructions he had received from the Mayor in regard to our customary perusal of council business.

The town clerk confirmed the Mayor's instructions left with him that the press was not in future to be allowed to look through the file of council business and that there was no change in those instructions. Having received such confirmation we thanked the town clerk and hung up the receiver.

UNANIMOUS COUNCIL APPROVAL

It was at a regular council meeting held on August 24, 1950, when a motion by Councillor Corbett, seconded by Councillor Davies, was unanimously carried, granting the facilities to the press which Mayor Bell, on his personal initiative, has now withdrawn.

At the above meeting of council the following members were present: Mayor Bell, Reeve Cook and, Councillors Corbett, Davies, Glass, Jones, Murray and Pringle.

The unanimous decision by council to grant such facilities to the press arose from a letter we sent to Mayor Bell in which we pointed out that it was very difficult for a reporter to get everything down accurately at council sessions, resolutions, etc., and we requested permission to call at the clerk's office after each meeting of council to verify notes taken. We pointed out that such "verified reporting" would be in the interests of the work of council as much as it would be in the ratepayers' interests.

The letter we sent to the Mayor was read to council by Councillor Davies and, as we have pointed out, it was approved unanimously by a vote of council.

Following the approval of council, we have called at the clerk's office after each meeting of council we have attended since August 21, 1950, and verified our own notes, copied out resolutions, etc., so that the citizens of Aurora could have as accurate and as complete a statement of public business as was humanly possible.

We are aware that the citizens of Aurora have depended on our reports of council for full information on the work of their elected representatives and we have never spared any effort or time in the performance of our public responsibility.

ROLE OF A DICTATOR

The responsibility will fall directly on Mayor Bell to explain to his council and the citizens of Aurora why he has given instructions that the press is henceforth forbidden to see council business following each session. Council's resolution of August 24, 1950, has not been rescinded.

We could have published the news of his ban on the press immediately his instructions were communicated to us on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 18. There was plenty of time left to us to put it in last Thursday's issue of the ERA and EXPRESS, and have made a headline of it had we chosen to do so.

Instead of making immediate capital of such an extraordinary proceeding we waited on any "clarification" that might come along. When on Friday afternoon the Mayor's instructions were confirmed by the town clerk our duty then was clear, namely, to inform the citizens of Aurora of the ban on press freedom issued by Mayor Bell.

The freedom of the press is a precious thing. Only through the exercise of a free press can the people learn the truth. There was a time when Mayor Bell appeared to like a free press, for at his inaugural meeting as Mayor of Aurora in January, 1950, he spoke these words: "We have not had enough publicity, it has been like an iron curtain for the past four or five years. It is the duty of the press to keep everyone in town informed on how your money is being spent, and I think everyone should be interested." That was Mayor Bell speaking in January, 1950, when he also promised "good government" for Aurora.

We submit that unless and until the town council rescinds its resolution of August 21, 1950, Mayor Bell had no legal right to issue any such ban as his instructions contain. In so doing he sabotaged the collective authority of the town council and assumed the role of a dictator.

COUNCIL SIDELIGHTS

Aurora Commissioners Warn: Don't You Touch That Wall Or We'll "Sit-Down" Strike

To submit to threats is always a sad business. It is the essence of democratic government not to submit to threats. Any local body which surrenders to threats has forfeited its right to govern. We regret to report that by a majority vote the Aurora town council on Monday night, Sept. 17, yielded to threats.

Four members of council stood out against the threats. Their names are Deputy-reeve Murray and Councillors Corbett, Davies and Jones. They deserve congratulations.

The question on which council surrendered its authority was the new hydro building on Mosley street. Only one other subject within our knowledge has aroused so much public opposition as the new hydro building and that is the planning board.

At its meeting on August 20 a motion was moved by Councillor Fielding that the hydro commission be ordered to reconstruct its new building so as to conform with by-law building regulations. That motion was carried with only Reeve Cook voting against it.

It was Councillor Fielding who completed a turn-about on Monday night, September 17, and by her vote in favor of the hydro commission humbled council's authority and caused its surrender to threats.

Four Stood Firm

Recently we wrote that in a change-of-front contest Joseph's coat of many colors would never stand a chance with the Aurora town council. It is the most unpredictable assembly we have ever known. You never know which way it will turn. Some members appear to change their opinions overnight.

At least four stood firm on the hydro building question. We applaud them for their consistency. It can be said of them—Messrs. Murray, Corbett, Davies and Jones, that they stood for the authority of council as the supreme executive authority in this town.

The hydro building offended against the building regulations, the plans of which had been altered, apparently, from the originals passed by the permits committee. The four members of council named insisted that the motion which they supported on August 20, requesting the hydro commissioners to alter the building, be adhered to.

But the recorded vote went against them. Mayor Bell, Reeve Cook, Councillors Fielding, Gundy and Pringle decided that council must yield under the threat of resignation by Commissioners Baldwin and Rose. It is a truly lamentable state of affairs when a town council is brow-beaten into surrender by two men who refuse to carry on unless they get their own way.

Let Them Resign

Of course they just want their own way until the end of the year, when they may be retiring anyway. What council does after that won't worry them, presumably. But just, please, let the offending building alone until they get out. Then, perhaps, a new council will say, "Oh, well, what's it matter now? The old council did it, not us."

The commissioners admitted that a "mistake" had occurred in the building. Very well. The builder was ready and willing to correct the mistake by lopping off the eight and one-half inches of west wall "mistake," which, by the way, wasn't the builder's mistake. The builder built according to plans placed before him.

But the commissioners wouldn't stand for that. No, no. The building must be left as it is, mistakes and all. Of course everybody else is expected to obey regulations. Everybody except the town, that is.

"If Mr. Bowser decided to take the eight and a half inches off, would hydro interfere?" That was a question from Councillor Davies to the mayor at council meeting. "They won't have it altered," replied the mayor.

We suggest that a strong mayor, backed up by a strong council, would have declared that they would have none of it. And that unless the commissioners carried out the decision of council to reconstruct the building, they could resign immediately if they so desired. But we have neither a strong mayor nor a strong council, some of which change their minds overnight.

Aurora's Sacred Wall

So the two recalcitrant commissioners carried their point by the threat of a sit-down strike. If the building were to be altered they would refuse to attend hydro commission meetings and thus hold up action on there wouldn't be a quorum. Alternately they would resign and force an election.

It would have been an infinitely healthier civic state of affairs to have accepted the resignations of the two commissioners, and to have held an election to appoint their successors immediately, than for council to submit to dictation from two rebels against the council's directive, ordering them to conform to building regulations.

Metaphorically speaking, what Mayor Bell, Reeve Cook and Councillors Gundy, Pringle and Fielding did was this: They got down on their knees, humbly imploring the rebellious commissioners to stay on the job, on a promise that Aurora's Hydro Wall would never be touched by any vandal hand.

The way this offending wall is being protected, you'd think it was as sacred as the Wailing Wall in Jerusalem or the Great Wall of China.

No Co-operation

Here is the position as we see it. Somebody wanted the hydro building built as it stands now. And there it is, a model for all who would defy the building regulations!

For we cannot see how the town council can compel other people to obey regulations which it itself disregards.

We also think that the hydro commissioners would have set a fine example of co-operation had they, after admitting that a "mistake" had been made, readily and willingly expressed a wish to have the building reconstructed in accordance with building regulations.

They did not choose that co-operative course. Instead, they took up an attitude of defiance to the chief local executive authority. We consider such an attitude most regrettable. If everybody followed that example there would be no government but only chaos.

Outside Intervention

We have no desire to carry on any argument with the editor of the Banner, unless some matter of public interest arises which compels attention from us, to the extent of presenting another point of view. It was necessary, not inclination, that prompted a rebuttal we published in last week's issue of Aurora News Page.

There is another matter, however, to which we wish to draw attention, as we think it is important. It concerns the status of newspaper reporters at the press table of the town council, one of whom is the editor of the Banner.

On three occasions at past sessions of council he has forsaken the role of newspaper reporter to assume the part of giving a little purported guidance to council. It is true that on the first occasion it was Councillor Pringle who invited the editor of the Banner to help council with suggestions. For that small intervention Councillor Pringle must accept responsibility. It concerned newspaper advertising on debentures.

On two subsequent occasions, however, the Banner editor and reporter has played a small part in council business. The last instance was while the debenture tenders were being discussed, when the Banner reporter passed up two or three notes to members of council.

Solicitor Available

Now, there is no reporter sitting at the press table of the Aurora town council who is as wise as Solomon. But even if there were it would not be his business to interject remarks, or pass up notes, while council is in session. Council business is strictly and exclusively for members of council and for nobody else.

A reporter's duty at the press table is to sit still and take notes. He is there to report, not to comment either orally or by missive. When he leaves the press table he is free to comment, within the law. The degree of his public usefulness will then become apparent.

In the past we have noticed that the town solicitor is generally available when council needs assistance; and we trust such procedure will continue.

JOHNSON - SEDORE

Ravenshoe United church was decorated with cedar and gladioli in autumn colors for the wedding on Saturday, Sept. 15, of Cairine Jenette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sedore, Queensville, to Victor Edwin Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Johnson, Newmarket. Rev. Mr. Campbell of Keswick officiated at the ceremony, and the soloist was Mr. Terry Doane, accompanied by Mrs. J. L. Smith at the organ. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in pink chantilly lace, made in redingote style over matching taffeta. Her finger-tip veil was of blush illusion tulle, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white pompoms, roses and heather. Mrs. Gordon Toke, as matron of honor, wore a bouffant gown of blush pink corded taffeta, with harmonizing flowers. Carol and Dona Sedore were flower girls, wearing identical gowns of blue taffeta, with matching poke bonnets and nosegays of corn flowers and sweet peas. Best man was Mr. Donald Johnson, and ushers were Neil Johnson and Murray Sedore. At the reception held at the bride's home, her mother received in a navy costume and feathered corsage of pink roses, and Mrs. Johnson, mother of the groom, assisted, wearing a dress of green lace with rose corsage. For the wedding trip the bride travelled in a navy ensemble with corsage of American beauty roses and white heather. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will live in Newmarket.

PROCTOR - HENDERSON

In a candlelight service at Calvary church, Placentia, California, on Saturday, Sept. 1, Evelyn Ruth Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Henderson, of Brea, California, became the bride of Harrison M. Proctor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Proctor, Newmarket. The minister was Rev. Chester J. Padgett. The soloist, Mrs. Olive Dyer, sang "God Gave Me You," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Miss R. Jones. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white satin and nylon lace, made in formal style, and carried a heart-shaped cascade of red roses. Her only attendant was Mrs. R. W. Leatherby, in a dress of pale green organza, and carrying a bouquet of pink rose buds. Mr. Harold Beckett was best man, and ushers were Mr. Bill Proctor and Mr. Bill Henderson. At the reception in the church parlor, the bride's mother received in navy blue net with red roses, and Mrs. Proctor wore a harmonizing shade of blue with pink rose corsage. For the honeymoon trip by motor along the west coast, including Banff and points in the United States, the bride's costume was a navy suit with red accessories. On their return they will live at 583 Glencairn Ave., Toronto. Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. E. McCoy and daughter, Mrs. B. Morlin, of Oakland, California, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Proctor and Margaret, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Proctor from Newmarket.

CROCHET is a wonderful hobby—it's relaxing, nerve-soothing and a means of making many beautiful household and fashion articles inexpensively.

Crochet Thread
Before starting to crochet, it is advisable to learn a little about the various textures of cotton thread most suitable for the article you are about to make. For example, extra heavy thread is used with best results for rugs, hot plate mats and pot holders. Bedspreads are made of a cotton heavy enough to hold its shape well and to hang nicely when on your bed. The finer threads are used for the dainty pieces such as lace trimmings, doilies and jabots.

Directions For Crochet
Your crochet books are very helpful for a beginner. They show diagrams with directions for the various stitches. Crocheting is not nearly so difficult as you may think. You start with a chain stitch, then single crochet, double crochet and any pattern and make the lovely things you admire, because all patterns are merely a variation of the above stitches.

Dainty Touches

This lace doily is a dream, it's so dainty and feminine. You'll like it to dress up an old dress or to wear with your new and favourite suit. It's perfect for the office and for any dressy occasion. In fact, you'll find it has many, many uses.

If you wish to make this FRILLY DICKEY, a direction booklet is available. Just mail a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the paper and ask for Leaflet No. 22.

What They Are Saying

Should they fail, a medal for Jim Wilson. We'll leave it there. We Meet Mr. Babcock

Speaking of enthusiasm, we met another enthusiast the other day. He was public school principal, Mr. D. Babcock. He was enthusiastic over two matters: his own school and the town library.

Mr. Babcock informed us that the registration this term for the public school is the highest in its history. The summer term ended with a registration of 419; the new term has started with a registration of 443. Kindergarten registration numbers 43.

The other matter on which Mr. Babcock was enthusiastic is the town library and the continuing improvements that are being carried out on it. He was telling us about the new books that have been added to the shelves. Mr. Babcock has senior service as a member of the library board, and we listened with interest as he forecast its future value to the town.

By the way, we seem to remember some writing we did on the library. It was then as dark and neglected-looking in the month of November, 1949, as a catacomb among the tombs of the Pharaohs. But it was full of light and attractiveness by the time our writing on it ended.

Royal Theatre Wins
Still another enthusiast we talked with was Mr. Clifford Griffiths of the Royal Theatre, whose recent successes in bringing popular attractions to Aurora has broken all records in the history of the local movie house for attendances.

It was not, however, with these that Clifford was concerned for the moment, but with inside staff competitions in the organization which owns the theatre of which he is the well-known manager. He was, in fact, paying tribute to those whom he described as "his excellent staff."

It was to his staff that Mr. Griffiths was giving credit for taking fourth place in all Canada for the Odeon Theatre Canada Ltd., and associated companies contest, and for gaining the highest position for one week over the whole period of the contest. Among others of his staff, Robert Bull and Diana Easterbrook were especially commended.

Our congratulations to all concerned in these successes.

Trophy On Display
We suggest that our readers look in the Willis store for a sight of the Thomas Legge Editorial Trophy which the ERA and EXPRESS has won for two years in a row for the best editorial page among competitors in the two provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

In 1950 the ERA and EXPRESS won not only the Legge trophy for the best editorial page but the Williams trophy also.

This year our newspaper took second place for the Williams trophy, and this competition was for the whole of Canada.

The credit for these editorial triumphs goes entirely to the managing editor of the ERA and EXPRESS, Mr. John A. Meyer. We were writing for newspapers before Mr. Meyer was out of school, and we are still, fortunately, a long way from the condition of the sere and the yellow leaf! Such seniority, however, enables us to say, without apology or self-interested obsequiousness that his editorial writings are frank, provocative, and original in content, and presented in clear, forceful prose.

Previous to its capture by the ERA and EXPRESS, the Legge trophy was won in the years 1946-7-8 and '49 by the Fort Erie TIMES-REVIEW, one of the finest of all Canadian weeklies. To its editorial pages Miss Judith Robinson is a regular contributor, whom we read for many years while she wrote for the GLOBE and MAIL.

The greatest of all British women writers we believe to be Miss Rebecca West, and that is what the majority of British readers have been saying for some years. Our own view is that what Miss West is to the Old Country, Miss Robinson is to Canada.

Celebrated 44th

Very hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Whitelaw who celebrated their 44th wedding anniversary on September 25. What secret Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw have discovered in the art of keeping young is beyond our guess. But certainly time has touched them very lightly after 44 years of married life.

On second thoughts we'll make a guess and say it's a life of married happiness that has kept them young. We hope we will be around to write up their golden jubilee. Meantime this card of good wishes.

Wasn't Working
And here's one for a filler. A member of council got out of his car and said to us as he stood by a parking meter: "Guess I've got to put a penny in this blasted thing!" He did and found it wasn't working.

COUNCIL REPORT

Reeve Cook said there seemed to be many a hardship in the by-law which council could never approve.

At one point it was discovered that the town solicitor had been working on the wrong draft zoning by-law, which he said "was just too bad," as that was the one that had been given to him. Apparently Councillor Davies had one draft by-law and there was a different copy in the town hall, and this had been given to the solicitor.

Involved Terminology

Councillor Davies continued to read sections of the by-law, asking for approval or dissent, whereupon the solicitor enquired if members of council clearly understood what the language used in the by-law really meant? He admitted that he himself was not sure of the meanings, and that there were many pitfalls. "Nobody on council understands it," repeated Councillor Jones.

A long discussion proceeded on what the zoning by-law described in one section as a "parking lot" and in another section as a "parking area."

Councillor Gundy said that if they couldn't understand it, it wasn't going to be very easy for others to do so.

Mr. Lee referred to the term "accessory" and wondered if Councillor Davies or any other member of council could define the word in connection with its use in the by-law? No reply to the solicitor's question was given.

Further discussion was brought to an end when Councillor Davies rose and said: "Your committee rises to report no progress, Mr. Mayor."

Water Supply

Before council rose, Councillor Corbett requested attention to a water service being installed on Wellington street west to the town limits. After discussion, a resolution of council approved the request.

Council adjourned at fifteen minutes after midnight.

(Note: Owing to Mayor Bell's instructions that the press is not to be allowed to refer to the file of council business, we regret that fuller information we would like to have given our readers on Monday night's session cannot be supplied in this report. We shall, however, deal more fully with the zoning by-law, etc., in next week's "Council Sidelights." Ed.)

The first storey of King Memorial Hall in Memorial Park will be started at the "earliest possible date," according to a motion approved by the board of the King City Association at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Ivan Specht on Sept. 19.

The decision was made possible by the acceptance of a deed of land offered by the Lake Marie and King Athletic Association. With "existing funds" which have been raised by the athletic association and King Women's Institute, construction will be completed to the ground floor on a site of about 4,000 square feet.

Additional funds required for building the "next floor and furnishings" will be raised through organized campaign. For these purposes an application to the provincial government for a charter will be made by the solicitor, Donald M. Findlay, secretary of the K.C.A., which includes representatives of community organizations.

The motion, which has made history for King and district, made by George Harvey, scoutmaster, and Bob McLeod, coach of King City Wrestling Club, was unanimously passed after defeat of a motion to organize on an unincorporated basis, with the consideration of a charter to follow at a later date.

M. H. Bell, who was appointed treasurer of the K.C.A., made strong appeal to make a start on the hall at once. George Brown, president of the Athletic Assoc., and Mr. Bell felt that with the money on hand, the construction of a ground floor, capped with a temporary roof, could be started and would give encouragement to a community which, they said, would rally to the support of completion of the building. It is the intention to include a library in any project.

Evidence of the widespread interest in a hall project was the presence at the meeting of Mrs. Geoffrey Beatty, a member of Kingcrafts Guild. This organization has more than doubled its membership since a year ago.

Turkey Suppers
On early fall agenda are three turkey suppers: Wednesday, Oct. 17, at Temperanceville church, only 300 tickets being sold; at All Saints' church, King, Nov. 7, Mrs. Len Robb convening, and on Nov. 2 at Lasky United church, under the auspices of the W.M.S.

Rally Sunday
On Sunday, Sept. 23, Rally Sunday was observed by the Presbyterian congregations at all points. Mr. David Wetherston delivered impressive sermons on "The Bible, the Living Book." He spoke of the "open Bible," the symbol of the reformation, a freedom dearly bought but carelessly treated and soon lost.

The annual thankoffering meeting of King United W.M.S. will be held at the church on Thursday, Oct. 11. Miss Annie Bishop, dominion board supply and overseas relief secretary of the W.M.S., will speak. Women's groups from the Baptist, Anglican and Presbyterian local denominations, Lasky, Teston and Maple, are invited to attend.

Attending the annual fall rally of Toronto West Presbyterian church last week were those from Eversley W.M.S., Mrs. T. L. Williams, district vice-president, Mrs. F. Curtis, local president, Miss A. A. Ferguson, Miss Jessie Gellatly, Mrs. Jas. Brown and Mrs. Jas. Ball.

Lasky United Y.P.U. enjoyed a Christian fellowship evening convened by Jim Marwood. Miss Vera Hunter read a timely article about King George, taken from the Canadian National magazine. Earle Scott read articles on early English history.

Prayers for King
Protestant and Roman Catholic churches of King township offered prayers for the recovery of King George VI. at Sunday's services.

Mr. J. MacDonald has transferred from University of Toronto to Western University at London where he will pursue studies in business administration. He had completed two years in architecture at the Toronto school.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ross are enjoying their new home, built on the site of the old dwelling, 5th concession. A picture window to the east affords a scenic view of the surrounding countryside. Built on a hill, easily approached from the roadway, the home and grounds are attractive. Mr. Ross and son Arthur are now working on Mr. Terence King's house. It was bought from Bud Hamblby.

Aids Camp Councillor

Mrs. Hugh Ross helped out a cousin, Miss Arlene James, of Galt, who was a councillor at the Bolton camp in late August. Miss James became ill and spent a few days in the Ross home before returning to her home for an appendectomy. With her was Miss Mary Ferguson, also a camp councillor from Galt. Another visitor of Mrs. Ross was her aunt, Mrs. Reg. James of Brantford, who had just returned from a trip to the west coast.

Mrs. C. A. Black, Mrs. Percy Leatherdale and Mrs. Lawrie Boys, members of Lasky W.I., are convening a dance in Institute hall, Friday, Sept. 28. Weir's orchestra will play.

King Institute family night will be held in the United church basement on Tuesday evening, Oct. 11. Details of the event will be announced next week. It is the 12th birthday of the W.I. Forum.

Sound nutrition from basic food was demonstrated at King W.I. on Monday night when a sound movie film showing research work along food lines that has been done for the air force and army. Six members of Temperanceville W.I. were present.

Night Raids On Garden
There are other than humans who like juicy corn and good grapes. Coons are "sitting up nights" to feast on the corn-patch and grapes in the garden of Mr. A. E. Jarvis at Jarvacs. Selecting the best, they husk the corn and devour the kernels. Running along the grape vines, they pick off the fruit, and like youngsters "spit out" the skins, leaving them on nearby ground. Apparently this is the first season the animals have molested this garden and if they appreciate their good luck they will come next year, for Mr. Jarvis has one of the finest lots in the district.

Teachers Organize
King Township Teachers' Association re-organized at the opening meeting of the new term at Aurora high school on Sept. 13. Mr. Bennet was named president, succeeding Mr. Bob Curson. The gathering was welcomed by Mr. J. H. Knowles, principal of the school, who spoke briefly on what is expected of the high school student. In the subject of arithmetic, Mr. Knowles emphasized more time be given to accuracy, tests and drill. Public school inspector, Mr. H. B. Galpin, was present to meet his teachers. He advised commencing the school term with review of the work in the previous grade to strengthen new work being taught.

The teachers were invited to visit the high school any time at their disposal. The next meeting of the association will be held at Nobleton school on Thursday evening, Oct. 11.

A Bride This Saturday
Pre-nuptial honors were given this week in Toronto for Miss Marjorie Mary Alice Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Johnston, Sylvancrest, 7th line, when the University Women's Club gave a luncheon on Monday. The hostesses were Mrs. Harold Rogers and Mrs. R. E. Rundle. On Tuesday, Mrs. Joseph McDonald gave a luncheon at the Granite Club for the bride-elect and on Friday, Sept. 28, a rehearsal dinner will be held at the Albany Club. Miss Johnston is marrying Mr. Gordon Lang Cheesbrough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cheesbrough, Westmount, Montreal, in Timothy Eaton Memorial church. The reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple are planning to live in Mount Royal, Montreal.

Harvest Festival Service Sept. 30
On Sunday, Sept. 30, Harvest Thanksgiving service will be observed in All Saints' Anglican church at 7 p.m. when the rector of Woodbridge, Rev. J. D. Paterson, will preach. Flowers, fruits and vegetables will be gladly accepted by the congregation to be left at the church on Saturday morning. These are later disposed where needed. Holy Communion will be held at 9:30 a.m.

On Sunday, Oct. 14, anniversary services will be observed at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church at 8 p.m. and evening. At the latter service, Rev. M. E. Burch of Mimico Presbyterian church will be the preacher.

On Sunday, Sept. 30, Communion will be observed at St. Paul's, Strange, and Eversley Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. W. W. Weir, Brampton. The Eversley service will be held at 7:30 p.m., standard time.

Dies of Polio

Word has been received of the death of Herbert Dyke of Sudbury, a polio victim who was taken by plane to Toronto for treatment. Mr. Dyke is the son of Mrs. Iva Dyke and the late Cornelius Dyke, Unionville. He is survived by his wife and children, his brothers, Rev. Oswald Dyke and Alfred Dyke, and a sister, Mrs. Hazel Hiltz. Deceased is a nephew of Miss Lily Dyke and a cousin of Mrs. Arthur Wellesley and Mrs. Bert Cadden of King.

Four Generation Farm Sold

The sixth concession community at Strange is again losing one of the old families of the district, with the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dove and their daughter Jean to Aurora, where they have bought a home on Gunette St. Their 100-acre farm has been sold to Mr. Donald McClelland of Vaughan township, who, with his brother, has sold a 320-acre estate located south of Maple to a Brazilian man. In the same family since 1856, the Dove farm is well wooded. It has a stock pond and a small stream. The land is rolling in character. Mr. McClelland intends to operate as a farmer and has riding horses. The couple have a small baby. The newcomers will take occupancy in October.

The farm was originally cleared by Joseph Wood, one of the early tax collectors of King township. He sold to Thomas Proctor in 1856 and it was taken over by his son, Alex Porter, father of Joyce Porter Dove and Annie, Mrs. John Mitchell. Jean Dove makes the fourth generation. The family connections are making good use of the time that is left to visit the old homestead. Alex Porter's sisters were Mrs. Wood, who married the son of the first owner, and Mrs. Harry Rumble of Maple. During the past couple of weeks several have "come back" to see the old place before sale takes place this Thursday (Sept. 27). On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Richardson of Barrie (she was a Wood) spent the day with the Doves.

Presentations to Dove Family

On Thursday evening of last week the congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church and friends of the neighborhood gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dove to convey best wishes for a happy and successful life of retirement. They brought gifts to express their appreciation of their respect and admiration to a family well rooted in the traditions of family and community life. They were presented with a silver tea service from the congregation and neighbors of the community, made by Whitley Finch. N. D. MacMurchy read the farewell address.

The W.M.S. of the church of which Mrs. Dove is treasurer, gave her an electric heater and her daughter Jean a table lamp. Mrs. R. Farren and Mrs. R. Farren and Mrs. Stan Kerr did the honors and Mrs. C. A. Black, W.M.S. president, gave the presentation address. Mrs. Dove has been raised in St. Andrew's congregation and has long been an active member of the W.M.S. Mr. Dove has been a church official for several years, and an elder of the church for six years. Jean likewise will be greatly missed at St. Andrew's and among the young people of the countryside.

Will Attend Convention

Mrs. Beryl Fleet, president of King Legion Ladies' Auxiliary, Mrs. Hazel Campbell, the secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Annie Bice, will attend the annual convention of the Ontario Command, Ladies' Auxiliary, to be held at Timmins, October 1, 2, 3 and 4. Mrs. Fleet will represent Zone 22 of which she is president. Mrs. Campbell will be there in the interests of the local auxiliary and Mrs. Bice will also find interest in the convention of the local group. Sometime in October, the King Auxiliary expects to commence the bingo season.

Mrs. J. G. Jackson had the pleasure recently of making a tour of Richmond Hill Public school where he had taught for two years. Ten years ago, there were eight teachers on the staff while she was there. There are now 15, and the school is well equipped in every respect. The new kindergarten room interested Mrs. Jackson.

Miss Gerry McDonald visited her aunt, Mrs. Ed. Knowles at Bangor, Maine, after coming from St. Andrews, N.B., where she was on the staff of the Hotel Algonquin during her vacation months. She is back at U. of T. again.

Reflexes to Church Pew

To see Mrs. Harry Edwards take her place in a pew at All Saints Anglican church on a Sabbath is something very unusual. For many years she was seen in the church choir, rarely missing a service, and one of its most faithful members. However, an illness this summer of long duration finds her in the congregation now, an eager participant in the service. Five of the lately family, mother, father, a son and two daughters, still share choir duty. Miss Harding is back again rehearsing the song service for weekly worship. Tonight, Thursday, the choir is holding a social evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Barrie.

May Be Home At Christmas

Privates Eddie and Gary Bishop, Korea, are anticipating home leave for Christmas. When they wrote their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bishop, last week, they were taking needles for malaria immunization. Gary had been in the hospital for two weeks with a skin infection but is recovered now, and Eddie has been on a special course.

Debutures Issues For Sale

Bids on debenture sums totaling $41,938 to be issued Nov. 1, 1951, have been called by King Township, tenders to be received up to 12 o'clock noon, Oct. 1. Two issues are for sale, one for $30,000 for the cost of "enlargement of school buildings (S.S. 2) and improvements to the school proper." The other is for $11,938 to defray the cost of construction of a system of waterworks extension in the water area at King City. The bonds pay 4% percent interest annually.

Granddaughter Christened

Helen Mae MacMurchy, four months, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Norman B. MacMurchy of Weston, was christened in Central United church, Weston, on Sunday, Sept. 23. She received her name after Dr. Helen MacMurchy, a cousin of her father, and from her aunt, Mrs. Mae Follitt MacMurchy of Hillsburg. Those present were the baby's four grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Follitt of King; Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacMurchy of Hillsburg. All the family connections were guests of the baby's parents for a christening dinner held at their Weston home. Her Aunt Mae, Mrs. Donald MacMurchy, husband and family of Hillsburg, were there among other close relatives. She was afterwards taken over to Humber Memorial hospital to see her aunt, Mrs. Gladys Follitt Parker, R.N.

Thefts At Fleetwood Motors

Three tires and three wheels were stripped from a used car on Fleetwood Motors parking lot some time Saturday night. The loss is set at $75. A month ago on Sunday night, a new Ford 2-ton truck was stripped of four tires valued at nearly $365. It was to have been delivered to Mr. Fyfe of Richvale. Police are investigating both incidents.

Picture News from C-I-L

SPEED GLAZE is the new modern way to polish cars. Just wipe it on, wipe it off, for the most beautiful shine you've ever seen. "Speed Glaze" is a silicone polish, developed by the Industrial Chemist to clean and beautify in one operation — with no cleaner required.

VACATION LUGGAGE like the smart suitcase in the picture has benefited from Chemilux. It is covered with "Fabrikoid", a coated fabric made by C-I-L. "Fabrikoid" is supplied to other manufacturers, who turn it into shoes, belts and suitcases, to mention a few.

YOUR UNSEEN SERVANT — CHEMISTRY

A lot of C-I-L products are unfamiliar; a lot are known only in the form of finished articles. Take "Freon" for example. It is used as the propellant in aerosol bombs; it is also the chemical which keeps your electric refrigerator cold. "Fabrikoid" coated fabric is supplied by C-I-L to other manufacturers who convert it into suitcases, belts or book covers. In the same way C-I-L makes nylon yarn and staple fibre, but other companies make the nylon stockings, lingerie, or the seat-coverings pictured here. The things made by C-I-L are often obscure in the finished product. They bleach the towel, dye the dress or cool the refrigerator — all vital but little known tasks performed to create new and better things for you. In such ways C-I-L is constantly "Serving Canadians Through Chemistry".

JUST PRESS the button! Suntan lotion, perfumes, deodorants are easily applied by aerosols which depend on "Freon", the chemical propellant that makes them "go".

COUNTRIES for away use C-I-L products of many kinds. Here explosives are loaded aboard a barge on the first leg of a long journey to an Asian construction project.

CANADIAN INDUSTRIES LIMITED MONTREAL

AUTOMOBILE manufacturers are always seeking refinements to provide you with a better car. One of the latest of these is nylon upholstery, made from C-I-L nylon yarn.
